Will Bombards
Old Joke of Car
in Second Gear

(Special To The News)
SAVANNAH, Ga., March 10.—Has somebody with a knack for statistics kept track of how many times they have been told the joke of the man in a "certain small make car" catching up with a big car going seventy miles an hour, and asking "Do you know how to get this 'certain small make car' out of second gear?"

We can save half the wasted time in this country if we can get people to quit telling that joke.

I hereby offer a substitute. All automobile prosperity is based on what they call the "quick turnover." Well, with all these cheap-make cars developing sixty and seventy miles an hour and our improved roads and many sharp turns you are going to see the greatest turnover in the automobile business this country ever witnessed. Undertaker shares will go higher than General Motors.

Yours for the aeroplane, where it's safe.
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

There will be a lot of house to house canvassing in New Castle tomorrow. It is the annual date for the every member canvass for the Presbyterian churches of the community. Some of the United Presbyterian congregations have also named this date for their canvass.

E. Lin Dilks, New Castle man, in the coast to coast marathon, is keeping up well in the grind. He is giving his home city some publicity throughout the nation at the present time and there is every confidence here that he will continue to do so. While such a race has never before been attempted, Dilks has been in training for years and if anybody is fitted for such a grind, he is. His friends here are confident that he will keep up with the leaders throughout.

There must have been an accident on Highland avenue at Garfield last night. For this morning there was more than a bushel of carrots scattered over the street. And along with the carrots there were a few heads of cabbage.

Overheard at a lunch counter: "Go ahead, order whatever you like. My husband just came through with the little alimony thing." The little lady was young and perhaps it was her first experience at spending alimony money. At least, she seemed to be getting quite a thrill out of it all.

Pa New is of the opinion that the solution of the daylight savings problem in New Castle is the same as it has been found to be in other cities. For instance in Erie, daylight savings time is observed for three months, June, July and August. No daylight savings time is observed in May or September. There is no reason why such a program cannot be observed in New Castle. In this manner the school system would not be interfered with, neither would we have two months of daylight saving that do not mean anything of value.

County commissioners are asking for bids for a new steel bridge at Kennedy's mills to replace the old wooden structure that has stood for years at this place, and was recently closed because it was not deemed safe for traffic.

Frank Hayden reports that one of the oldest buildings in New Castle, which has outlived its usefulness, is being razed. It is the old distillery property near the New Castle Traction company barns. Mr. Hayden says it is more than 90 years of age and that it was originally used as a church.

Farmers report that the past winter has been a hard one on the wheat crop—too much freezing and thawing. Say Mr. Peairs, why wouldn't it be a good idea to have some kind of a

Costs County Large Amount For Keeping Insane And Criminals

Few taxpayers have any idea of the large amount of money that is paid out by the county for keeping inmates in asylums and other institutions. Bills received for the past three months total $6,563.81, according to the county commissioners.

These bills are for but six institutions and do not include the Western penitentiary, the Allegheny county workhouse, Huntingdon or Morgantown reform schools.

Campaign Records Highest Honors Of G. O. P. Finances Are Not Preserved

National Committee Records For 1923 Are Destroyed Committee Is Told

TREASURER HAD RECORDS DESTROYED

Senate Committee Is Endeavoring To Follow Trail Of Liberty Bonds

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 10.—All financial records of the Republican national committee for campaigns up to 1923 were destroyed by the late Fred Upham, national treasurer, on the eve of the 1924 campaign, Irt G. Hipsley, his secretary, testified today at the Senate inquiry into the Continental Trading Company's $3,080,000 liberty bond "slush fund."

The records for 1923 and early 1924, Hipsley said, were destroyed in May, 1926, after Upham died.

This revelation blocked efforts of the Senate public lands committee to learn what became of a $600,000 liberty bond fund given Upham by Will H. Hays, who got the bonds from Harry F. Sinclair. Hipsley said he had never heard of the bonds until he read recent newspaper stories.

Father And Two Sons Burned To Death, Third Son Seriously Injured In Fire

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—A father and his two sons were burned to death and a third son was injured seriously when fire swept their house in Philadelphia today.

The dead are: Lorenzo Cambria, 35, a grocer, and his two sons, Salvatore, 11, and Angelo, 7. Harry, 14, a third son jumped to the ground when the flames trapped him in a rear bedroom on the second floor. He was taken to a hospital suffering from burns and injuries sustained in the leap.

A defective flue is believed to have started the blaze.

Wanamaker Will Be Buried Monday

Many Notables To Attend Funeral Of Deceased Merchant Prince

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 10.—Prominent men and women from all parts of the nation will come here Monday afternoon to attend the funeral services for Rodman Wanamaker, head of the Wanamaker stores who died at his Atlantic City home yesterday after being stricken with pneumonia.

Wanamaker will be buried beside parents in the cemetery of St. James The Less, Falls of the Schuylkill. His body was brought to his Jenkintown home, "Lindenhurst" by motor late yesterday.

The services will start at 2 p. m. in St. Mark Protestant Episcopal church here. A special train will bring employees and executives of the Wanamaker stores in New York for the funeral services.

Philadelphia City officials and prominent business and social leaders will attend the services.

The Wanamaker stores will be kept closed until after the funeral.

Alice Bland Corbett (above) of New York, formerly of New Castle, Pa., asks $250,000 in alienation suit brought in New York against Countess Andrea Soranzo. She charges the Countess was tricked into marriage with Corbett.

Religious War In Near East

Passive For Many Years, Islam Is Undertaking New Religious Crusade

CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS ARE ORDERED CLOSED

(International News Service)
CONSTANTINOPLE, March 10.—After being passive for many years, Islam is undertaking a new religious crusade throughout the Near East to combat Christian influence among the Moslems.

The days of Islam's aggressions by fire and sword are gone forever, but the flames of hatred against the "infidels" still burn.

Outstanding developments in the Mohammedan movement are:

1.—Sultan Ibn Saud, King of Hedjaz, is connected with a "holy war" which the desert tribesmen are attempting to start against the Christians in the regions of Iraq, Koweit and Transjordan.

2.—The Turkish ministry of education at Ankara has closed Christian schools in Broussa and Smyrna because, it is alleged, the teachers were attempting to convert Moslem children to Christianity. Three teachers of the American School for Girls at Broussa are on trial charged with converting students to the Christian faith.

3.—The Persian government has closed the schools of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, alleging that the Bible was being taught in violation of an order from the ministry of education last year that only the Koran should be taught.

It is possible that the conflict between the Moslems and Christians may be compromised in Persia, owing to criticism of the government for closing the modern schools.

There are frequent occasions, when people observe the fiftieth anniversary of their entrance into their chosen life profession.

Today Dr. D. R. Harris of 318 Fairfield avenue, one of the city's outstanding physicians, is quietly observing the fiftieth anniversary of his service to humanity as a physician.

He is receiving the congratulations of many physicians and numerous friends and the Lawrence County Medical Society remembered the occasion today by sending him a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

In spite of the fact that it is half a century since he started in the practice of medicine in this city, yet he is today in active practice and enjoys the highest respect of the physicians and general public of the city.

There is another local physician, Dr. Robert A. Wallace who will also presently observe the fiftieth anniversary of his work as a physician. The Medical Society is laying plans for a banquet to be held in the spring in honor of these two eminent physicians.

Dr. Harris is a graduate of the Homeopathic School of Medicine in Philadelphia.

Neighbors attracted by the woman's screams found their efforts to aid her blocked by a locked door, which was finally broken down by a taxicab driver. The kitchen was a roaring furnace but the chauffeur rushed in and dragged Mrs. Reina to the hallway.

When firemen subdued the flames the baby was found dead in its crib.

SAYS ROBBERS GOT HIS PANTS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 10.—Mrs. Anna Reina gave her life early today in a vain attempt to save her six months' old baby from flames that spread from a kitchen stove in their home here. The baby, Frank Jr., died in the fire and Mrs. Reina succumbed in a few minutes.

The usual prisoner that appears before his honor the mayor has on his clothing, at least most of it, but Eddie Dwyer, who brought himself to the police station for protection, when he appeared before the mayor, was bereft of his trousers.

He explained when he appeared at the police station in his rather long overcoat, which he opened up showing that he was minus his trousers, that he had been robbed of his trousers.

He was permitted to go on his way with instructions to get some clothing to cover himself.

NEW CASTLE MAN STAYS WITH LEADERS

Over 200 Miles Have Been Recorded In Epochal Marathon Grind

By LELAND C. LEWIS
International News Service Special Correspondent.

IN MOHAVE DESERT, Calif., March 10.—California will be a boom camp for today and tonight and then will pass into the oblivion of "ghost cities" of the west after C. C. Pyle's marathoners trek onward to needles and new adventures in Arizona.

A water-hole 40 miles east of Bagdad has been selected as the next rest spot for the contestants in the $48,000 "bumion derby" at which they will find a few brief hours respite from the agonies that equal feats of the early-day pioneers.

Newton Still Leads.

Arthur Newton, the Rhodesian Rambler, well acquainted in order of the victor, leader in the race thru the past two days, was favored to come through today to the seventh control station. Newton's remarkable physique, wiry and lithe, is a revelation.

Race officials sent the racers along their way at an early hour in order that they might clock off as many miles as possible before the sun reached its height and sent its torrid waves down upon the men.

Dilks In Same Position.

BAGDAD, Cal., March 10.—Here are the positions of the 15 leading runners in the Los Angeles-New York road race and their elapsed time as they pushed on into the Mojave desert today, after having left behind 207.5 miles since starting from Los Angeles last Sunday.

"Led the race for 20 miles today, am feeling fine and expect to win out in the end because I am taking it easy," is the substance of a telegram from Earl Lin Dilks received by his wife in this city this morning.

Mrs. Dilks who is eagerly awaiting news of the race at her home on Hamilton street, said that the telegram was sent by her husband on Thursday evening after the race from Barstow but she did not receive it until this morning.

State Trooper Is Seriously Wounded In Sad Accident

Youth Jokingly Points Gun At Officer And It Is Accidently Discharged

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., March 10.—with a bullet imbedded in the back of his skull, State Trooper James Moser, 26, lay near death in a hospital here today.

Floyd Grimm, 15, alleged to have fired the bullet accidentally, was not arrested. Troopers said Grimm was a friend and admirer of Moser.

The shooting occurred in the state troopers' barracks at Houston, near here. Grimm and Lewis Wagner, 16, friends of Moser, scuffled for a revolver which Moser had cleaned and laid aside. Grimm secured possession of the revolver and believing it unloaded it is said, aimed jokingly at Moser. The trigger was released and the bullet struck the officer.

UNFILLED STEEL TONNAGE ORDERS (BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 10.—Forward tonnage of the United States Steel corporation increased 122,242 tons in February, according to the monthly statement of the corporation, issued at noon today. Unfilled orders on the books of the corporation on February 29, aggregated 4,398,189 tons, against 4,275,947 on January 31 and 3,579,119 on February 28, 1927.

Garage Burns Auto Total Loss

Firemen Answer Call Outside City And Save Threatened Home

ALARM SENT IN ABOUT MIDNIGHT

City firemen were called to the home of C. B. Latimer, 238 Smithfield street, just outside the city limits, about midnight Friday night by an alarm from box 64.

The firemen on their arrival found that the blaze was in a garage at the rear of the Latimer property. The cause of the fire is unknown. The fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the garage or the new automobile in it.

The flames were also burning their way into the Latimer home, when the firemen arrived and had it not been for the great fight put up by the firemen, the home, also the adjoining property of Mrs. E. H. Peterman, 260 Smithfield street, would probably have been burned down.

The loss sustained is as follows: garage $500, damage to Latimer home $200 and loss of new automobile $1,000.

The firemen also burning their way into the Latimer home, when the firemen arrived and had it not been for the great fight put up by the firemen, the home, also the adjoining property of Mrs. E. H. Peterman, 260 Smithfield street, would probably have been burned down.

Governor Smith Files Petition In California

Governor Smith Of New York Now Accredited Primary Candidate In California

(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 10.—Governor Al Smith of New York today is an accredited candidate in the primary race for California's delegation to the Democratic National convention in Houston. Official indorsement of his candidacy was filed by his California representatives with Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state for California, when nominating petitions signed by more than the required number of voters were submitted.

The measure thus becomes law. It will restore to German owners millions of dollars worth of property seized during war time, and settle millions of dollars worth of claims of Americans who suffered damages at German hands prior to our entry into the war.

Coolidge Signs Property Bill

By Coolidge; Will Restore Seized Property

(International News Service)

USE NO COAL AT GARBAGE PLANT

Not one lump of coal has been burned for five weeks at the municipal garbage plant, said Howard Phillips, superintendent, today in speaking of the new furnace which recently was installed. Another furnace is being installed and will be ready for operation after a few weeks.

The plant's operation formerly required approximately 1,000 tons of coal a year, Phillips stated today.

The new furnaces will not need fuel.

Making Progress In Rescue Efforts At "Robert E. Lee"

Some Of 263 Aboard Stranded Steamer Are Taken Off In Small Boats

SHIP POUNDS ON ROCKS AT PLYMOUTH

Believe All Passengers And Crew Will Be Taken Off Safely

(BULLETIN)
PLYMOUTH, Mass., March 10.—Work of rescuing the 263 passengers and crew of the stricken liner Robert E. Lee off Manomet Point was under way today.

In a coast guard power launch ten passengers were carried to the side of the coast guard cutter Tuscarora.

A few minutes later another power life boat rolled and pitched from the side of the stranded ship carrying ten more persons to the coast guard cutter.

When a sufficient number are aboard the Tuscarora they will be conveyed by that craft to Plymouth. Others will be rescued in this manner, the idea of taking them aboard the steamship George Washington or of landing them by means of breeches buoy having been abandoned because of the strong northwest wind and the choppy sea.

The George Washington had poured oil on the troubled waters about the stricken Robert E. Lee and this proved a big aid in bringing the coast guard boats alongside.

The start of the rescue work was followed by watchers on shore through glasses.

In the town here, near historic Plymouth Rock landing place of the Pilgrims, eight motor buses awaited the arrival of those who have spent a memorable night aboard the Robert E. Lee.

Daylight Welcome Relief

Plymouth, Mass., Mar. 10.—Break of a bitter cold and snowy dawn today found rescue ships riding the heavy rollers in a howling northeast blow near the stranded Boston-to-New York Eastern Steamship liner Robert E. Report 200 Injured When Landslide From Mountain Demolishes Small Town

(International News Service)
RIO DE JANEIRO, March 10.—Thirty persons were reported killed and at least 200 injured when a landslide from the peak of "Monte Serrat," a high mountain at Santos, demolished 50 buildings in that city. Santos is on the Atlantic coast, 25 miles from Sao Paulo.

The gold was recently received in New York to facilitate trade between the United States and the Soviet Union and is being held in the vaults of the Equitable Trust Company and the Chase National Bank. The United States government refused to allow the gold to be taken to the assay office in New York, consequently the Soviet government has been losing approximately $700 daily in interest upon the metal.

Arthur Mometer

There's a tang of spring in the chilly air, a hint of buds and a threat of sun, a promise that skies will be blue right soon, a sign that the winter is nearly done. There's a smell of earth in the open fields, a trace of green on a vagrant sod, and a stirring round underneath the roots an urge that is moving each snow-touched clod. There's a tang of spring that is much like wine, a feeling that things will begin to grow, and the trees and bushes are bare again, all free from their blanket of ice and snow. A tang of spring and a hint of sun, and back from the southland the birds will soar to welcome the spring as it comes to us, today the weather is thirty-four.

Hygienic Fibre Company Awarded Labeled Goods

Receiver Of New Castle Paper Products Company Directed To Deliver Same

In an opinion handed down by Judge Hildebrand in court this morning in the case of W. H. Shipper, George H. Bolinger and Louis E. Hough against the New Castle Paper Products Company, a decree is entered in favor of the Hygienic Fibre Company for certain property described in the petition. John P. Lockhart, receiver, is directed to turn over to the Hygienic Fibre Company all cellu cotton now on the premises of the New Castle Paper Products Corporation, bearing labels or other markings showing same to be the property of the Hygienic Fibre Company and being all of the cellu cotton contained in the packing room of the New Castle Paper Products Corporation, consisting of 11 cartons of finished napkins, 18 cartons of pads, all of the cellu cotton in the cutting room, consisting of 29 cartons, four cartons of cellu cotton in the north end of the main building and a pile of 26 cartons in the loft over the north end of the mill, containing 16-pound rolls and four cartons in the same location containing one and two-pound rolls. As to the balance of the property of the defendant company and claimed by the petitioner the prayer of petitioners is refused.

Finch Street Lad Struck By Auto

Taken To Hospital But Will Be Able To Leave In Short Time

John Kemp, aged 5, 1221 Finch street, is in the New Castle hospital suffering from slight injuries sustained Friday afternoon when struck by the automobile of J. R. Young, Portersville, Butler county. He will be able to leave the hospital in a short time.

According to the report made to the police by Mr. Young he was driving south on Arlington avenue near Finch street, when the Kemp boy ran across the street in front of his machine and was struck and knocked down.

Mr. Young hurried the boy to the New Castle hospital, where it was found that his injuries were not of a serious character. The little fellow was returning home from kindergarten session at the Rose avenue school.

Volley Ball Team Trims Coraopolis

Win Five Games To Four; League Standing Are Announced

Before a record crowd, New Castle Y. M. C. A. defeated the Coraopolis association five games to four in a volleyball game played at Coraopolis. A return game will be played at New Castle later in the month, announced Walter E. Kirker, physical director at the New Castle Y. M. C. A.

The New Castle team was composed of the following men: Dunlap, Lippman, Elliott, Erce, Craig and Markley.

Standings of the Business Men's Noon Volley Ball League, as announced by Mr. Kirker this morning, are as follows:

as Mary Ann Rocks, one mile and a half off Manomet Point, the Robert E. Lee was pounded all night by a raging sea.

S. O. S. calls brought the coast guard cutter Tuscarora across Massachusetts Bay from her station at Cape Ann, the salvage ship Falcon from the grave of the sunken submarine S-4 off Provincetown, the submarine tender Bushnell and mine sweeper Mallard, also from Provincetown, and a thirty-six foot power boat from the Sagamore coast guard station manned by six brave coast guardsmen.

The imperiled passengers emerged from a night of anxiety. The Robert E. Lee, in swinging leeward from her course in the gale in an effort to reach Cape Cod Canal, tore a hole beneath the waterline and began taking water fast. The graphic story of her peril was told in the pitiful sentences of radiograms. From the shore she could be seen but faintly through the driving snow.

The first message stressed the need of immediate assistance but stated: "No panic aboard."

"Still pounding badly. Getting worse. Snap out of it," were among the messages shot from the antenna of the radio of the liner.

"Cannot launch lifeboats. We are on reef and water too shallow," went back a message to the Tuscarora. Then began to come the reassuring messages: "Everyone OK, no panic." Later "We are lying comfortable now. No immediate danger. Hope we can transfer passengers after dawn."

A message from the U. S. S. Bushnell said: "Standing by until morning. Will make no attempt to take off passengers except in extreme emergency. Seas too heavy for us to approach close."

light placed on top of the cathedral building? Seems to Pa New that it would be a worth while stunt if some lighting effect was used at the highest point of the big building.

Just a few more days and the groundhog's hibernation will be completed. While February didn't produce much in the way of winter, March has been doing quite well in the first ten days at least.

Saw a number of golfers anxiously looking over the Field club course yesterday. It will be some time yet, however, before the grounds will be ready for use.

How many buildings have been painted with signs for aviators as suggested recently by the Chamber of Commerce? This little matter should be attended to. With the plans made for two airports here this year, there should be some signs telling the fliers where they are located.

You can never tell what notables are liable to be flying over this area. The famous French fliers who landed a week ago in a field near Sharpshooter came over Lawrence county, their route being over Volant. They were flying low at the time, looking for a place to land.

While spring is a little backward about dropping in on New Castle, there was every evidence of spring in the large crowds of shoppers that invaded the stores of New Castle today. It was one of the biggest crowds seen in the shopping area since last fall.

There is considerable double-parking downtown during the day time, parking of cars in alleys day and night, which would lead to serious results were a fire to break out. Speeding is noted in the Highland avenue school district. Machines parked close to the corners of North Mill street, at Falls, prevent motorists from seeing traffic coming north on North Mill street into Highland avenue.

Young People To Have Program

Bible Baseball Game To Be Feature Of Meeting On Sunday, March 18

Young People's Council of New Castle district will have an interesting program in Central Presbyterian church, Sunday afternoon, March 18 with the associate superintendent, Geneva Fleming presiding.

The meeting will open promptly at 2 o'clock with a praise service with Frank Brenneman, leader and Frances Turner, pianist.

Devotionals will be led by DeWayne Glenn. A twenty piece orchestra will furnish music for the afternoon under the direction of Al Bauman, Jr. director.

A bible base ball game on the Book of Acts will be a feature of the program. The captains are Mildred Cowmeadow of Central Christian church and Katherine McGrath of the Highland U. P. church. Referee will be Dr. T. J. McPate, Battery Order, Harry Bush. Through the courtesy of Dr. C. B. Winger, pastor of the church, Mrs. A. B. Strickland, wife of Rev. A. B. Strickland of Philadelphia will give a character race portrayal at 3 p. m.

"Lame Duck" Sessions Measure Is Defeated

Plan To Carry Fight For "Lame Duck" Sessions Abolishment To Next Congress

(International News Service.) WASHINGTON, March 10.—With the Norris-White proposed constitutional amendment to end "Lame Duck" sessions of congress killed because it could not command a two-thirds vote in the house, backers of the resolution today declared that the fight would be renewed in the next session of congress.

After passing the Senate almost unanimously, the measure got 209 votes in the house to 157 against it, or 35 votes shy of the two-thirds necessary to submit a constitutional amendment to state legislatures.

The record showed that 118 Democrats and 89 Republicans voted for the resolution, while 102 Republicans and 55 Democrats were against it. Two voted present and 47 members were paired or not present.

CAMPAIGN RECORDS OF G. O. P. FINANCES ARE NOT PRESERVED

"All our books for the campaign that closed in 1922 were destroyed in 1924," said Hipsley. "The convention was in June and the books were destroyed shortly before that."

The period referred to by Hipsley was one in which the Democrats were seeking to make the oil scandals a national issue. It followed the Senate revelations about Teapot Dome.

"The records for 1920, 1918 and 1916 were destroyed at the same time," said Hipsley. "When Upham decided he wasn't going to be Republican treasurer any more he destroyed all his books. There was one exception—the card index system. He turned that over to his successor."

Law Carried Out

"Those records were destroyed for what purpose?"

"No purpose," Mr. Upham had acted upon the law that requires the books be held for 18 months after the campaigns."

The records for 1923 and the pre-convention campaign of 1924 were destroyed in May, 1926, after Upham's death, Hipsley said.

To all questions concerning the Hays bond transaction with Upham the witness said he knew nothing about it. He said he knew of no reason why Upham should have withheld this important information, but that he hadn't heard about the bonds.

Hipsley said he had handled other liberty bond contributions to the Republican party in the years 1918 to 1924.

"Especially in 1920 when the bonds were selling at 89 and 91, we got bond contributions," said Hipsley. "A contributor would send in a thousand dollar bond and expect to be credited with its face value. We gave full credit and charged the difference to the 'expense of collection' account."

"You seem to have a particular and complete familiarity about all the financial business of the Republican national committee except the very matter the committee is trying to get some information about," Senator Walsh (D) of Montana finally announced.

"Oh, the bonds," Hipsley replied. "Well, I never knew anything about them."

Hipsley mentioned a $25,000 indebtedness of the Republican national committee at the Crocker National Bank in San Francisco. He said this debt was "whittled down to $16,000."

All Day Services On Sunday At Simpson Mission

Special evangelistic services which have been in progress in the Simpson M. E. mission on North Liberty street have had very satisfactory results.

The first two weeks the services were conducted by neighboring ministers. The third week has been a very helpful one with Rev. L. W. Bartlett of Wilkensburg as the preacher.

There will be no services this evening. There will be an all day meeting on Sunday. Preaching at 10 a. m. followed by Sunday school at 11 a. m. The afternoon service begins at 2:30 and will continue through the evening. Those wishing to remain for the evening are asked to take sandwiches. Coffee will be furnished.

City Willing To Purchase Property

Would Eliminate View Blockade At Greenwood Avenue And West North

City Council yesterday instructed R. M. Halner, to obtain agreements with Adolphus Polk and Frank and Lulu O'Connors for the sale of their properties to the city of New Castle. The city is willing to pay $2,150 for the Polk property and $1,500 for the O'Connors property.

The properties are located at the intersection of Greenwood avenue and West North street where Greenwood avenue touches State street. They are considered blockades of view.

The proposed purchase indicates that Greenwood avenue will be paved and that the city will not extend Atlantic avenue this year.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

ANOTHER PRIMARY

In the session of 1927 of the Pennsylvania General Assembly it was my privilege to serve as the representative of the citizens of New Castle.

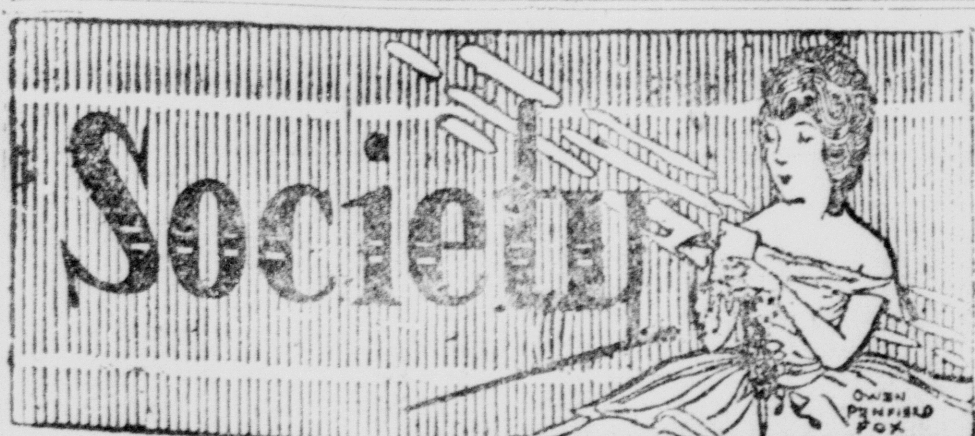

During the campaign prior to the election there were several pledges that I made to the people, and these pledges were fulfilled.

The time is almost here when the Republican Party must again name its nominee for the General Assembly, and I am a candidate for that nomination. The session of 1927 lasted 100 days, of which less than half were spent in formal session in Harrisburg.

I believe that my experience in 1927, in my first term, will be of value, and I ask the privilege of utilizing that experience in a second term.

SENIOR-SOPHOMORE RECEPTION, FRIDAY

Over 600 students of the senior and sophomore classes at the Senior High School, attended the senior-sophomore reception held at the high school building on Lincoln avenue last night.

Autograph books, candy booths, together with an enjoyable program, presented in the school auditorium by boys of the senior class, made for an evening of barrels full of fun.

Members of the sophomore class, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Calbreath, were in charge of the candy booths, which were neatly adorned with blue and white decorations, the colors of the class.

Following out the customary procedure, miniature tablets were distributed to the students in order to give them the opportunity to become acquainted with one another.

Entertainment in the form of musical acts was provided for by members of the senior class, under the supervision of Miss Dorothy White, a teacher at the school. The entire program follows:

Opening selection by special orchestra consisting of Phil Winter, Michael Caruso, Daniel Cassia, Harold Sankey, Bruce McCreehan, Gene Wolf, Harry Stitz and Arthur Barrett, with Otto Pearsall at the piano.

Comical - Minuet by Charles Perry, Francis Sage, Don McGoun, Donald Huffman, Jim Metzler and Joe Pearson.

Impersonation and Juggler, Joe Pearson and Paul McWilliams.

Selection by the special orchestra. Colored comedians, Donald McGoun and Donald Huffman.

Members of the junior class were not included at the school function which has heretofore been the case, because those in charge realize that the crowd would be too large if the juniors appeared.

Student council members, under the direction of the council's supervisor and president, were present.

DRILL TEAM HONOR MRS. BERTHA TRESER

The Ce-Le-Be Drill team of She-nango Chapter 333 Order of the Eastern Star entertained at dinner in the Elks club Friday evening to honor their worthy matron, Mrs. Bertha Treser. Dinner was served at 6:30 and covers were arranged for 28 guests. Pink rose buds centered the table and dainty nut baskets in tones of pink and green marked the places. Mrs. Treser was presented with a shower of dainty handkerchiefs. During the evening cards and music were the chief forms of entertainment.

A large and enthusiastic audience of more than 2,000 assembled at the Penn Athletic Club auditorium, Philadelphia, to greet Margaret Taylor, New York soprano, and Vincent St. John, New York artists, upon their first appearance in that city.

These well-known singers presented a program which was among the best of its kind given here this season.

A program of modern songs and Irish ballads as well as a condensed version of the Italian opera Cavalleria Rusticana, sung and acted in costume was received with much appreciation by the delighted audience, the singers responding to many encores. Both have charming voices of remarkable range and power. Their pleasing personalities and splendid technique added greatly to the value of their entertainment.

They will be at Scottish Rite auditorium St. Patrick's Day, March 17, afternoon and night.

A large and enthusiastic audience of more than 2,000 assembled at the Penn Athletic Club auditorium, Philadelphia, to greet Margaret Taylor, New York soprano, and Vincent St. John, New York artists, upon their first appearance in that city.

These well-known singers presented a program which was among the best of its kind given here this season.

A program of modern songs and Irish ballads as well as a condensed version of the Italian opera Cavalleria Rusticana, sung and acted in costume was received with much appreciation by the delighted audience, the singers responding to many encores. Both have charming voices of remarkable range and power. Their pleasing personalities and splendid technique added greatly to the value of their entertainment.

They will be at Scottish Rite auditorium St. Patrick's Day, March 17, afternoon and night.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Review No. 98
Members of Review No. 98 W. B. A. held their regular meeting in the K. of P. hall Friday evening with a large attendance.

The next meeting of the Review will take place Friday afternoon, March 23 at 2 o'clock. In the evening they will have for their guests the Pythian Sisters and Daughters of Union Veterans, also the Supreme Lady of Ceremonies, Mrs. Ada R. Stone of Butler.

A program will be carried out and refreshments served. Drills will be put on by the different orders.

Rachel Rebekah Lodge
Regular meeting of Rachel Rebekah lodge, No. 40, will meet in the I. O. O. F. hall Monday evening at 7:30.

Mother's Circle
Mrs. Frank McArthur was elected president of the Mother's Circle of the First M. E. church at the regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Lechner of Highland avenue.

Mrs. W. J. Snyder was made vice-president. Mrs. J. C. Pherson, secretary and Mrs. J. C. Caven, treasurer.

Previous to the business meeting a tureen dinner was served at attractively arranged tables with covers arranged for twenty six.

A feature of the meeting was a memorial service in memory of the late Mrs. Ralph Craig, an active member of the Circle, who died on Sunday, March 4.

Y. M. W. Class
Mrs. T. M. Shumway of Neshannock avenue entertained the members of the Y. M. W. class of the Wesley M. E. church at her home Friday evening. There were ten present. It was decided to re-name the class and it will hereafter be known as the W. A. C. class.

Music and games were features of entertainment. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. E. Palmer and Mrs. Etta Chamberlain. Mrs. J. R. Riddle of Etna street will entertain the class in April.

Berean Bible Class.
Mrs. David Abernathy of Beckford street, entertained the members of the Berean Bible class of Grace M. E. church at her home Friday evening.

Decorations in keeping with the season were used effectively throughout the house. Guessing games were features of the entertainment.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Elizabeth McFarland and Mrs. Roy Westcott.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Reese of Rose avenue.

American Legion Auxiliary
Monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary took place Friday evening in the American Legion, Home, North Jefferson street, with a large attendance.

Arrangements were made for an attendance contest to continue for the remainder of March. Mrs. Ernest Withers and Mrs. Earl Sowers were appointed captains. At the close of the contest the losing side will banquet the winners.

Plans were made for a card party to be held March 28 in the Legion Home. The committee in charge of the party includes Mrs. Clarence Patterson, Mrs. J. S. Fisher and Mrs. W. E. Hughes.

Refreshments were served later by Mrs. John Whitten, Mrs. George Kuech and Mrs. Mont Hartman.

Section F
Section F of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Clara Gardner of Beckford street. The devotional period was led by Mrs. P. H. Sines. Two new members, Mrs. Norman Rape and Mrs. Harry Brown, were admitted.

During the business session the following officers were named for the year: president, Mrs. P. H. Sines; vice president, Mrs. H. L. Mortimer; treasurer, Mrs. F. P. Ball; secretary, Mrs. James Wright; press reporter, Mrs. H. F. Evans.

Lunch was served later, assisted by Mrs. Fred Sherman and Mrs. H. F. Evans.

BY-PASS HIGHWAYS

THE PROBLEM of through automobile traffic, which it was thought had been met by the construction of interstate highways, presents itself more forcefully than ever in those sections of the country where large cities dot the established transcontinental or intersectional routes.

Tourists, traveling long distances, want to avoid congested city streets and have sought what relief they could find by the selection of routes that avoided crowded traffic centers, but this is not always feasible. There has developed, in consequence, the theory of by-pass highways, designed to carry through traffic away from all dense centers of population and thereby expedite both motor freight and travel for pleasure.

The advantages to travelers, shippers and the cities themselves from this diversion of traffic are manifest. Through automobile traffic is no longer regarded as a trade stimulus by large cities. These urban centers are having enough difficulty with domestic traffic problems without encouraging their multiplication. Smaller cities, which have traffic problems correspondingly great, but want the tourist trade, favor by-pass highways because they separate those who want to trade with them from those who are speeding toward another goal beyond.

Those mapping the proposed Washington boulevard, which will connect Maine with Florida by way of the national capital, have in mind a highway that will make it optional with the motorist whether he will drive through or around cities along the route. Those who want to get to their ultimate destination will find their progress expedited and their trip made more comfortable. The others will be denied no sight-seeing privileges.

FLYING TO VENUS

WITH regard to this project which has been announced by Robert Condit, who is now at Ormond Beach, Fla., preparing to have himself shot to Venus in a rocket, it must be admitted that many points can be urged in favor of it. Venus is a very interesting planet. Her mean distance from the sun is 67,200,000 miles; she makes her sidereal revolution in 224.7 days, and her synodical revolution in 584 days; she has the additional recommendation that between interior conjunctions and the next superior conjunction she is a morning star, whereas between superior conjunctions and the next inferior conjunction she is an evening star. Furthermore, it is thought that she may be inhabited, and it would be nice to know whether the Venusians are similar to our own Venetians. So muses the New York World.

Yet we feel we would be remiss in our duty if we did not point out to Mr. Condit that his trip will be attended by certain dangers, the paper continues in a similar vein. It will be a simple matter, no doubt, to depart from this earth by means of a rocket; it will be a simple matter too to cut loose a parachute when approaching Venus and alight in a graceful manner. That is, if the original aim is good. But does Mr. Condit realize that Venus is a very small mark to shoot at? Her diameter of 7,700 miles, while impressive on paper is almost nothing at all when the size of the welkin is reckoned into consideration. Suppose, after he is several million miles on his way, he discovers that he is off his course, and then goes whizzing past Venus into space? His position will be most unenviable. In fact, so far as the million-dollar gate is concerned, he will have eliminated himself.

On the whole, we believe that Mr. Condit would do well to use extreme caution. At the very least, he should arrange to have a competent marksman from the Coast Artillery aim his rocket for him.

Propaganda

By IDAH McCONE GIBSON

They call it "mob psychology" nowadays for during the war the word propaganda got into bad repute, but it's the same old forming of opinions by those who have something they want to "put over."

We will hear a great deal of it during the coming year because two great political parties will be struggling against each other.

Each one wants to elect the next president, and there is a great unformed majority brain which can be welded into something near its heart's desire if it can only get to the mob first.

The mob never reasons, it is only swayed by a dominant personality, a brilliant mind or even at times a lucky or unlucky circumstance, or combination of circumstances.

The older people, especially politicians, will tell you of numberless times that the lives of men have been ruined by some silly sentence which is practically meaningless but is euphonious and easily repeated. James G. Blaine would probably be numbered among the presidents of the United States if one of his zealous friends had not used the words "Rum, Rooster and Rebellion" in connection with those who were opposing him.

"Crucified on a Cross of Gold" probably will be remembered even when William Jennings Bryan is forgotten. That is the reason that those who wish to sway the mob must always be exceedingly careful what they say and how they say it in the coming campaign. More women than ever before will exercise their elective franchise and it behooves them to hear what others say, digest it carefully and then make up their own minds on the subjects discussed.

Yes, what is here written has place in a woman's editorial. If women over 21 would be considered citizens of the United States, it is their duty as well as privilege to vote in the coming presidential election.

It is not so important for which party they vote as it is that they vote and see that the man for whom they vote is their real choice and not the choice that has been foisted upon them by subtle propaganda when they do not stop to prove by their reasoning minds.

Memo: Always to work what little gray matter we have is better than having great brains and let them dry-rot for want of use.

Can't understand at all why after all the repeated warnings that have been issued by the police department, that people will still continue to cash checks for strangers, only to have them returned marked "Not sufficient funds". We notice that apparently there is discord in the ranks of miners, which is helping to more or less complicate the situation. Police officers of Erie have found it necessary to resort to the law to obtain the benefit of the eight hour law, which provides that the officers have to work but eight hours in every twenty-four. It's been in force here for many months and without additional men and the police have been doing some excellent work in that time. Looks as if Erie would find it necessary to put the eight hour turn into effect there.

The labor situation in Philadelphia with its 75,000 unemployed men, has become so acute, that committees representing the leading civic organizations have conferred with the city authorities and have urged that something be done in public improvements, as soon as possible, in order to help cut down the unemployed list as much as possible. It would be a good thing for public officials in this section to keep this in mind.

There is in the eastern part of the state a salesman now on trial for making love, although already married, to widows and other women, whom he had reason to believe had money, and to relieve them of their surplus money. We wonder what a jury made up entirely of women would do in this case. We'll bet it would go hard with him.

In India, there is a small tribe, it is said, where women are in complete control of everything. What a man earns previous to his marriage belongs to his mother and after marriage to his wife. It is said that there is not even a ripple of opposition on the part of the men. We wonder how many men from this country would care for that sort of a thing. Not many.

Six hours sleep a night is enough for any person. So says Dr. F. A. Moss, instructor in a large university. According to him, it is a bad habit to sleep any longer. We're afraid that if he had to do real manual labor on six hours a day sleep, that he would try another tune.

Hoover, Good American.
G. M. Will Make Them.
Religion Gives Peace.
Science, Wealth, Knowledge.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

President Jordan, president emeritus of Stanford University is for Hoover, whom he describes as earnest, brilliant, possessing knowledge that the country needs a good American.

What is a good American. Herbert Hoover's name is a good answer. He is a good American, has proved it, and his Americanism is based on experience. He has traveled widely over the world, exercising his profession as an engineer, in China, in Europe. And where he went, he succeeded.

In his visits abroad Herbert Hoover learned, as Benjamin Franklin did, in France and in England, just why this is the best country, why Americans are fortunate in being born Americans. He doesn't have to guess about it. He knows.

Born in the West, Mr. Hoover studied in California, which has been his residence for a great many years. He went abroad as seafaring captain. Went in the old days of American shipping, as an engineer, because that was his business. He went to work at his profession. The more he saw of other countries, the better American he became.

Herbert Hoover, as head of the Department of Commerce attacked the British monopoly that regulates the world price of rubber and made millions of Americans pay double for rubber. It was Hoover that forced the British combination to reduce the price of rubber, as every tire maker will testify. That attack on the British monopoly, which was sending hundreds of millions of American dollars into British pockets, did not please Britain. But it was a good thing for the United States, and it showed the sort of American that Hoover is.

Mr. Hoover's work in dealing with the Mississippi disaster which President Coolidge entrusted to him, was that of a profoundly earnest and unselfish man willing to sacrifice comfort, time and energy to hard work in great emergency.

Mr. Hoover understands great national improvements that the country needs. Boulder Dam, canals from the Great Lakes to the ocean and Gulf, and he would be able to do the work that the country needs done.

Herbert Hoover, when he talks about America, knows what he is talking about. When he talks of other countries, informing American business men as to the opportunities for selling American goods abroad he is discussing matters that he understands. Thousands of business men will testify to the good that Mr. Hoover has done as the head of the Department of Commerce.

An overwhelming majority of those that voted for President Coolidge, electing him with millions of votes to spare, would like to vote for him again, since he has only been elected once and not in a running race for a second, not a third elective term, in 1928. But the President has decided, and millions that know they cannot have Coolidge, will be delighted to have Hoover, a good American.

General Motors says it is not going to make airplanes. This column predicts General Motors, eventually will make airplanes. Messrs. Loan Dupont and their able engineers and ambitious super-mechanics will not remain out of that which is destined to be the world's most important and perhaps greatest industry.

A few years ago Henry Ford told this writer "the airplane is not a commercial success, and I am not going into that field." Reminded that the automobile was not a commercial success, either, when he made his first little gasoline buggy, Mr. Ford reported that he would not make airplanes. He is making them now, sold nearly a million dollars worth last year. And while he loses money on every machine he will make money eventually. Meanwhile he renders a great service to his country. And his three-engine plane is a good safe, all-metal machine. Get one.

Professor Northrop of Yale says the world must look to an inductive philosophy of science for a solution of the problem of religion. "Science only can tell us whether the universe as we know it provides any concrete meaning for the claims of religion."

Science and religion are and must remain separate. Science gradually reveals to men that which they can explain and understand. Religion, which changes as men's civilization changes, represents the effort to know and understand that which men can never know or understand. Religion, destined to remain a matter of faith, never to be proved, is at least as important as science. Science gives knowledge safety and wealth. Religion gives peace.

New York school teachers are ordered to give children instruction in the harmful effects of alcohol. That order, based on a law 25 years old, is especially necessary with the modern brands of whisky. Formerly children were warned that they might avoid whisky when grown. Now, unfortunately, the warning is needed to keep them from whisky in high school.

THE BATTLE OF THE BUGS.

In a pamphlet called The Forest Primer, issued by the American Tree Association, are some interesting statistics about one of man's greatest enemies.

It appears that there are some two hundred thousand kinds of tree-attacking insects and that these little insects cause far greater losses to forests than do fires.

If unhindered these insects would destroy thousands of acres of valuable forests a year.

In one section of Oregon these pests have destroyed enough trees to build eight thousand homes at $10,000 each.

Birds are one of the best preventives of insects. In a way they are our best friends. Some insects prey upon others, thus protecting the trees.

But man must be constantly vigilant. He must fight the pine beetles, borers, timber worms. Bark beetles attack the trees of the Adirondacks.

The larch is the victim of the sawfly worm. The pine beetle is well at the top of the list of insect enemies.

In addition to this trees have diseases, although their powers of resistance to disease are greater than their resistance to insects.

Dr. L. C. Howard says that if man does not succeed in combating insects they will destroy man.

One of the greatest insect enemies is the termite or white ant. It penetrates the wood of floors, walls and foundations. Hence we must not only fight to save the lumber, but to save the buildings.

There must be no let-up in the fight against insects.

We must either pay out more money to protect the forests or pay ever-increasing prices for lumber, and in the end see the forests disappear.

Much has been done in forestry in the last few decades, but much remains to be done, and the care of the trees should be taught in every public school.

Who can fully describe the benefits of the tree? It is not only a thing of beauty that enhances the landscape, but it is useful. We get from it the material for our houses, for many of our utensils, and for many other useful things.

Charles Lathrop Pack, who has devoted his life to the trees, and spent much money at this work, deserves great credit.

Every town ought to have a municipal forest in its environments and ought to do something for the trees of the country.

STUDY IN SNOBBERY.

E. F. Benson has done another charming bit of writing. I don't see how he manages it. He has done at least 25 novels besides some books more interesting than any of his fiction. Yet his latest novel has more freshness about it than his first one. "Lucia in London" is a beautiful study in snobbery and pretence. Everyone who knows a snob when he sees and hears one will appreciate this story.

Lucia lives in a little country town in England and is the social lioness of the place, partly because of a natural vivacity and perennial energy, and partly because she is willing to devote more time and talent to pretending and getting herself appointed to committee memberships than anybody else in the village.

Lucia inherits some money and a house in London. She goes in for a wild and extravagant London social life, thrusting herself into the society of titled persons with the utmost bad taste and talking familiarity of dukes and princesses whom she has never met.

Then Lucia proceeds to snub the old friends from the home town. She high tails them derisively. The small town is self-sufficient without her and gets on handsomely without her and how revenge.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

UNDERGRADUATE CONTROL.

The practice of giving special attention to freshmen at colleges and universities to make transition from home to college life less abrupt, is growing among institutions of higher learning.

Yale University has extended the usual "freshman week" into a "freshman year." Activities promoted for the welfare of the student include regulations for both physical and mental health, and regulations covering certain conventions.

The use of motor cars by students has been restricted in certain institutions. The question of smoking, especially on the part of women students, is still open for discussion.

What is meant by the interests, activities and relationships, comprised in the term "student relations and welfare" is perhaps best expressed by the committee appointed at the University of Minnesota to study "all those influences affecting life, character and training of young people in a university." This committee will consider "not costs of education, not faculty needs, not building needs, but the welfare of the student and the extent to which all other activities are actually benefiting the young people for whom the institution is created."

"Student welfare will be interpreted by the committee in its broadest meaning, implying all benefits received by the students from every thing that goes on at the university, whether participation is required or they take part of their own initiative."

"Freshman Week," inaugurated some years ago, has spread rapidly during the period. It is being accepted and used almost as a standard phase in university and college procedure.

The more extensive attempt by Yale University to develop a "Freshman Year" has proved very successful at that institution. The scholarship of the class has been raised and the percentage of those dropped for academic reasons has decreased from 10.9 per cent to 8.5 per cent.

Winner Of Trophy To Be Decided At Coming Contests

The in the literary contests recently conducted in the county high schools will be settled at two contests to be held soon between Bessemer and Plaingrove. The first will be held at Bessemer on March 15 and the second at Plaingrove on March 22, according to County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling. Judges selected for the first contest are Superintendent Green of the New Castle schools, Superintendent Gamble of Sharon and Superintendent Atwell of Beaver Falls. The judges for the second contest have not been selected. Contests for points were held during the past winter throughout the county. At the close it was found that Bessemer and Plaingrove had an equal number of points and it is expected to determine the winner at the coming contests. Considerable interest has developed in the forthcoming event.

POLICE MAKE VISIT

Place of Tillie Casella, 903 Moravia street, was visited last night by Lieutenant Peter Hillers, Detective J. Young, Officers Letera and Thomas and Constable Leslie. A pint of liquor was found in the place, also two visitors.

Tillie Casella was taken before Alderman J. Lee Cooper this morning, where she entered a plea of guilty to the charge of possessing liquor. The visitors were assessed fines of $5 each.

NEURITIS PAINS VANISHED SINCE SHE GOT KONJOLA

New Castle Lady Tells How The
New Medicine Restored
Her Health

"In the more severe cases of Neuritis the pains are piercing, just like hot daggers cutting into the nerves," said The Konjola Man yesterday at the Love & McGowan drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, where he is personally introducing the new medical product, Konjola, to the people of this vicinity.

It is surprising what this new medical preparation, Konjola, will accomplish in so many cases of neuritis suffering. By invigorating the inner-organism to more healthy action, and stimulating the liver and kidneys, the poisons throughout the system are eliminated; the nerves become stronger and within a brief space of time, this Konjola brings amazing relief to the neuritis sufferer. For instance, just a few days ago Mrs. James McCarty, well-known lady, living at McClelland avenue, made the following statement:

MRS. JAMES MCCARTY

"I had neuritis for years," said Mrs. McCarty, "the pains centered in my neck and shoulders. At times this part of my body would feel numb, almost as if I were paralyzed, but most of the time my shoulders would be a solid mass of aches and pains. For many days before I got Konjola I couldn't raise my arms above my head. My kidneys were also in bad condition and they caused me much misery. All during the day I would have sharp pains across the small of my back and at night I would have to rise four and five times. Of course, this broke up my rest so that I seemed to be that my whole system was disordered. Along with those other troubles my liver was sluggish and my head ached constantly, feeling as if a thousand needles were sticking in me. I was in a miserable condition and the worst thing about my case was that I never could find a medicine that would do any good."

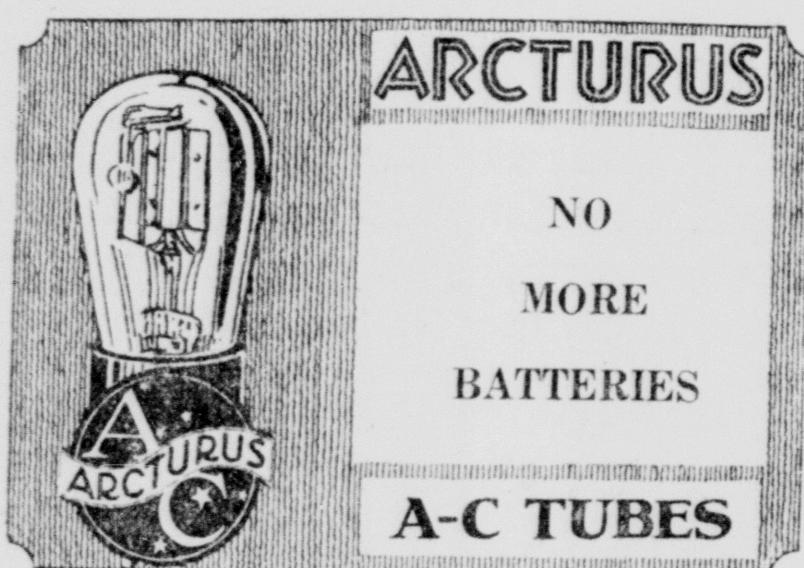

"I decided to give this new Konjola a trial and it turned out to be just what I needed. It is the first medicine that really ended my trouble, and now I am feeling like I never had neuritis in my life. The pains in my shoulders and neck are entirely ended. This medicine regulated my entire system and strengthened my kidneys so that I never have to get up during the night and my sleep is sound and restful. Since I started taking Konjola I haven't been troubled with headaches and my liver is normal. I have noticed that my health has improved in general and after this splendid way Konjola helped me, I think it is only right to endorse this medicine to others."

The Konjola Man is at the Love & McGowan drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

ARAB TRIBESMEN MASS FOR "HOLY WAR"

Ibn Saud, King of Hedjaz and Sultan of Nadj (insert) and real bronzed desert Sheikh, is reported leading his Moslem followers to war against Emir Abdullah, King of Transjordan (at left). Three British mandate territories are menaced by the "Holy War." Already English bombing squadrons and troops are being concentrated along the frontier from the Red Sea to the head of the Persian Gulf. Sheikh Saud, lover of modern automobiles and radio and with a harem of 24 wives, is reported angry at the cessation of his British subsidy "paycheck." Picture shows camp scene of the warrior tribesmen in the desert. (International Newsreel)

lar special attention is given at other institutions in guiding him through his courses in offering him opportunity for personal advice and assistance. At On the "Examination Year" has been handicapped by the necessity of housing some freshmen off-campus. In order to effect social control and to create community spirit, attention is also being given at other institutions to the housing of freshmen.

Vassar, for instance, has withdrawn all freshmen nonresidents from houses in the vicinity of the campus, thus, as the president's report expresses it, "resuming complete responsibility for the environment created during the process of undergraduate training." Common tables for freshmen are also being advocated, even in institutions which make housing together impossible as yet.

One of the objects of requirements that freshmen live and eat together is the control it affords over health conditions. Examination of reports shows an astonishing development of other measures adopted to regulate and to improve health.

At many small institutions, such as Bates and Skidmore, the attention given to the health of students is as outstanding as in some of the larger universities. The situation at the University of California is perhaps typical.

At that institution over 75 per cent of the entire student body made use of its infirmary one or more times during a single year. At Miami University 433 of the 1,701 students received treatment in its hospital. The clinical reports show even more impressive figures.

Institutions as far apart as Princeton and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College have inaugurated drastic motor car regulations. It is argued in support of careful regulation of the use of motor cars by students that automobile users tend to lower scholarship and waste of time; that accidents, violation of law and moral delinquencies result from free use of this means of transportation and recreation.

The question of smoking, especially on the part of women students, is still a subject of discussion and consideration at the whole, however, the tendency probably is to regard it from the standpoint reflected in President MacCracken's statement:

"As a social practice, students are, in the opinion of the faculty of Vassar College, entitled to decide the matter for themselves. As a habit injurious to health, the college is entitled to drop students who for this cause or any other fail to measure up to the minimum standard of physical fitness."

In the West and South smoking by women is looked upon as having significance of greater social import than is the case in the East. This is especially true of smoking by women, but eastern men are frequently surprised to find that smoking by men is also forbidden or discountenanced on the college campus and in the college buildings.

A conference was held recently in the East, which included representation from Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley, to consider the question of smoking by women students, but no joint action was taken. President Woolley's report clearly states the significant feature of the conference, in which representatives of student government participated.

The important point in her view was not a question of smoking or not smoking, but "the result of the discussion is a willingness on the part of the student body to bring the problem of college living up for a joint discussion between them, the faculty and the administration."

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

idea of government purely by the masses. Russia swings gradually into line with the other nations of the world. The government will be run by those capable of running it—at the top. Now that Lenin is dead and Trotsky gone, Stalin is the strong man in Russia. His idea is a republic. Nothing alarming about that. It's getting back to the old accepted system of earth in Russia—the system of the rich and the poor. The score is about over.

A PRACTICAL MAN

There comes a time in the history of the making of every government when a very practical man is needed at the wheel. Stalin is a practical man. Idealists have their important parts to play. They must always come first. Whether they are good or bad idealists they always have power. Lenin and Trotsky in Russia were idealists—not always good. Stalin, now in the saddle over there, thinks it is suicide to crusade against the governments and financial powers of other nations. He is through with the idea of revolution. He is practical.

Say now, ain't it better 't approach a thousand 'rail crossin's cautious like than 't get busted up on one of 'em just once?

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy shown at the death of our husband and father also for flowers and cars donated.

Police Break Up Miners' Meetings

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 10.—State police continued today to break up meetings in Washington county in which striking miners were addressed by persons with alleged radical and seditious ideals.

The latest breakup occurred at Midway. State troopers said they dispersed a crowd which was being addressed by Anthony C. Minerich, secretary of the Ohio-Pennsylvania Miners' Relief Association, when Minerich urged that the labor unions in this country be patterned after those in Europe. Minerich assailed John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Miss Rebecca Grecht was also refused speaking permission before Minerich took the platform. Miss Grecht, a young New York milliner, was arrested by state police last week for uttering alleged seditious remarks.

POLICE LOCATE MISSING GIRL

Susan Barbo, missing from her home in West Pittsburg for several days, was last night found by the police in the Fisher building on Long avenue by Detective John Young and Officer Samuels. She was turned over to J. M. Dunlap, juvenile court officer, and her parents notified.

Rev. Loy Mersheimer
At Nazarene Church
Sunday, March 11

REV. LOY MERSHIMER

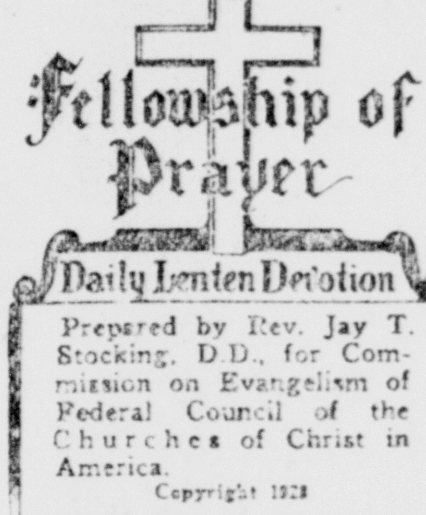

Rev. Loy Mersheimer, pastor of the Nazarene church of Sligo, Pa., will have charge of the morning and evening services Sunday, March 11, in the First Church of the Nazarene, corner of Falls and Beaver streets. Rev. Mersheimer is a former resident of Princeton and is a former member of the local church.

He is a promising minister and no doubt will have an interesting message at both services. There will be special music by the ladies quartet.

Mrs. A. B. Strickland
Speaks On March 18
At Central Church

Mrs. Arthur B. Strickland, the author-dramatist of Philadelphia and Boston, is coming to Central Presbyterian church for two lectures. Sunday, March 18, at 3 p. m. and at 7:45 p. m. She is a specialist in dramatic racial portrayals, presented in dialect and costume. The press says: "She presents an hour of humor, pathos and inspiration." "The Chautauqua circuit rarely offers anything so good," says the Standard of Chicago. Her lectures have been given over 1600 times in the leading cities of 19 different states and Canada. Her leading themes are "Liberty Land," "Italiana Redeemed."

She presents an entertainment, a missionary address and an evangelistic sermon in one. The Young People's conference, superintended by T. J. Davies, will meet in the church at 2 p. m. and will share in this address as a part of their interesting program.

Topic for the Week
"RELIGION AND THE JOYOUS LIFE"

Saturday
"The Joy of Good Will"

SCRIPTURE: Memory Verse: "Love never faileth" (1 Corinthians 13:8).

Read: 1 John 4:7-13.

MEDITATION: Good will is the best medicine for the soul. One of the commonest causes of unrest and unhappiness is distress of others that brings with it fear, suspicion, and other poisonous states of mind. The antidote for all this is trust and good will. To love thy neighbor as thyself means also to believe in thy neighbor as in thyself. Is it too much to ask that a person should think of his associates in the family, the office, and the shop as being at least as good as himself, moved by motives that are as high and by intentions that are as well meaning? Good-will will enable one to do this. Not only will this good-will produce joy in oneself, it will get the best out of others.

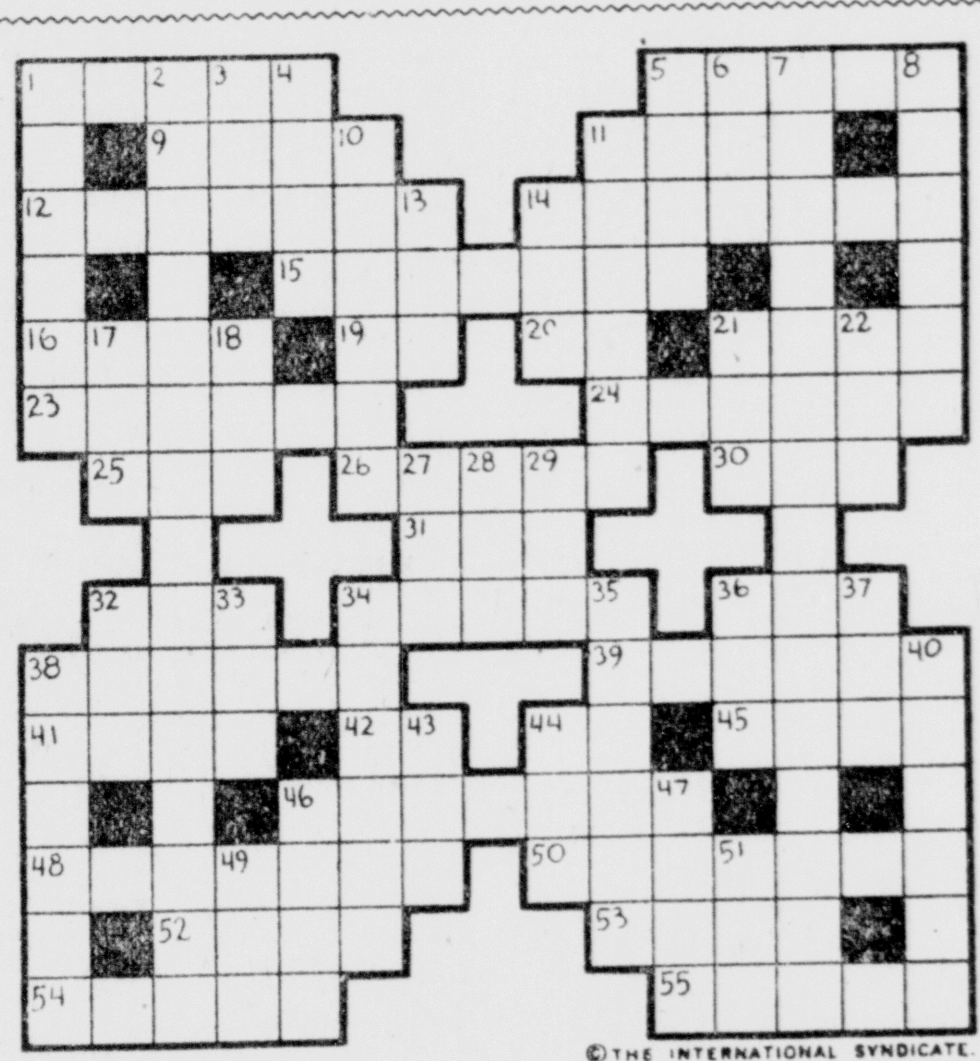

PRAYER: Lord, so fill us with gentleness and kindness that we may dwell among our fellows with a perfect heart and have joy and faith in each other. Make us true to all the tender relations of the home that we may not fail where we should be at our best. Amen.

CATBIRD GIVES A CONCERT

"Good morning, sir!" Peter did not wish to frighten the bird so he made up his mind to be careful what he said. "That was a lovely concert that you birds were giving as I came along. Why did you stop so very suddenly? I hope nothing happened to break it up!"

"What could happen to break it up?" questioned the bird, and somehow it seemed to Peter that the bird was mocking him. It confused him a little, but he continued:

"What could happen? Why a lot of things! Suppose, for instance, a cat appeared unexpectedly upon the scene! Would you birds keep on singing just the same? By the way, speaking of cats, have you happened to see one about? I thought that I heard one squalling just a few moments ago."

Peter looked up at the stranger in a gray, and this time there was no mistaking it—the chap was amused. His air was decidedly mocking. Yet at the same time he looked so merry and mischievous that the boy could not feel offended. There was something queer going on! The stranger knew what it was. Peter was determined to find out.

"Well," demanded the boy, "what is it? Where are the birds? And did you see the cat? And who are you, anyhow?"

Three questions at once were a good many for any bird to answer, and the gray stranger made no reply. Just looked as mocking as ever!

Then "Me-ow! Me-ow! Me-ow!" For the third time the cat quailed. This time the sound came from directly above the boy's head. Peter stared. No cat—not a sign of one—but there in the very spot from whence the noise had come sat the gray stranger. Peter became suspicious.

"I do believe you were making that noise," cried he. "Come, now, don't make fun of me any longer, but tell me the truth. Where's your?"

The merry fellow bowed his head in assent.

"Of course I was," retorted he. "The only wonder to me is that you didn't discover it before. Evidently you do not know who I am."

"I can guess now," cried the boy. "You are Catbird!"

"Right!" declared the stranger. "At least that is what almost every one calls me, but I am known to a few as the Mocking-bird of the North."

"Are you? Why?" demanded the boy curiously. "By the way, where are the other birds that were here before I came?"

Catbird laughed.

"That's the question," cried he, "and here is the answer!"

Then to the boy's complete astonishment the bird in gray tightened his hold upon a tangle of the honeysuckle vine, threw back his head and Peter found himself listening to the most wonderful music that he had ever heard.

Mellow and full, the feathered Victrola gave record after record. First Catbird trilled and then he whistled, and again he imitated one after another the songs of the sweetest birds and singers. But that was not all. He imitated the crowing of the cock, the cry of the peacock, the squealing of the inest pig in the pen, the lowing of the cow. One after another Peter recognized the voices of his

The Daybook

OF A
New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, March 10.—So great is the demand for small, moderate-priced apartments that New Yorkers are willingly signing leases on flats as yet indicated only in floor plans, or sketchily outlined by steel girders on high. This is true especially of a certain building over in east Fifty-fifth street, near the river and adjoining fashionable Sutton Place. The owners expect it will be finished in September, but many leases have already been signed.

The Daily News, dean of the tabloids, publishes every day a cheery little barometer captioned "Hands of Death." In a sketch simulating a clock face are recorded "the chief medical examiner's report of death by guns, autos and poison booze in New York since Jan. 1, 1928." In the event you are interested in such grisly statistics I will tell you that at the moment this column goes to the printer 165 persons have been killed by automobiles in the city, 100 have expired drinking illicit liquor and 47 have been shot. On the face of this information, New York sounds rather like a frontier town, but I must admit that six years or so day-by-day acquaintance with it has made it seem rather a tame town, after all.

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

LANDAU COUPE

Body by FisherThe Smoothness and Snap
That All America is Demanding

There's no longer any doubt about it. America is demanding more and more from its automobiles. More power . . . more style . . . more speed. And above all else . . . more smoothness and snap.

Smoothness that brings to driving new pleasures and new delights. Snap that responds to the traffic signal as a sprinter responds to the gun. Smoothness and snap that you know are the very essence of motoring satisfaction. Smoothness and snap that you find revealed in the All-American Six.

You find them there because of Oakland's big, impressive brute of an engine which starts so easily 'way below zero. Because of its famous GMR cylinder head . . . force feed fuel pump . . . 79-lb. crankshaft . . . generously oversize connecting rods and other vital parts.

Because of its ruggedly constructed chassis . . . its bigger clutch and smoothly shifting gears . . . and the super-precision construction demanded in the All-American principle of design.

Once you've experienced its smoothness . . . once you've witnessed its snap . . . you'll know why the All-American Six is winning such tremendous success!

Eisenbaum Elected
As Shrine Leader

Harrisburg Will Have 1929
Convention Of State Shrine Council

(International News Service)

ERIE, March 10.—Newly-elected officers today headed the Pennsylvania State Shrine Council. They were elected at the 1928 convocation held here.

Harrisburg was selected as the site of the 1929 meeting.

George Eisenbaum, Reading, was elected president, succeeding Frederick A. Fichtel, of Pittsburgh.

J. J. McMurrin, Altoona, and A. W. Milne, Erie, were elected first and second vice-presidents, respectively. J. R. Carroll of Pittsburgh was elected treasurer. William Fisher, of Harrisburg, was re-elected secretary.

Delegates were entertained at a luncheon at the Kalkwa Country club and at a dinner dance at the Hotel Lawrence.

Local Woman Owns
Some Old Envelopes

Mrs. J. B. Fox, 307 South Ray street has among her possessions several old envelopes that were used during the Civil War and before.

She also has several old stamps that are quite interesting, among which are the issue in 1892 in celebration of the anniversary of Columbus' landing in America.

The envelope that seems to be the oldest is one addressed to Mrs. Margaret Todd, Irishtown Post Office, Mercer County, Pa.

It bears no stamp and probably was written long before the Civil War. Mrs. Todd was the grandmother of Mrs. Fox and as near as she can remember died about 1866.

Another old envelope was addressed to Miss Mary Todd, Irishtown Post Office, which also bore no stamp and a seal of wax was used to seal it on the back. This was an aunt of Mrs. Fox.

A third envelope was addressed to Robert P. Todd, Irishtown Post Office, and must have been sent during the Civil War. It bore a three-cent stamp with Washington's portrait on it and in the upper left hand corner was a picture of the American flag on top of a globe floating on the sea. Robert Todd was a cousin of Mrs. Fox.

Irishtown Post Office to which all these letters were addressed is now known as Pardo. The last envelope was the only one that bore a post mark. The one addressed to Miss Mary Todd had a mark in ink "Rock-bridge, Wl."

This being Leap Year and all and household appliances being so very complete and efficient as they are, how is it that some belle of 1928 hasn't proposed to the mechanical man?

Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna Will Deliver Lenten Address Sunday Night

For the third Sunday evening of the Lenten season, in the new church of St. Mary's Parish, Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna, pastor of St. Margaret's Parish, Seventh ward, has been selected to deliver the message of these special evening services.

Father McKenna has the distinction of being a native of Scotland and the lone native born member of his race to be serving in the diocese of Pittsburgh as a priest.

He was born in Salsburgh, Scotland, residing there until 12 years of age. He then came to this country with his parents, who settled in DuBois, Pa.

After securing his common school education, as well as more advanced studies, he entered St. Vincent's college from which institution he was graduated in 1900. The same year he was ordained to the priesthood. He was the first of a group of twenty-four priests furnished by DuBois in the past quarter of a century.

His first charge was St. Columba, Cambria City, Pa. He was then transferred to St. John's Parish, Pittsburgh as an assistant. From that parish, he was transferred to St. Mary Magdeline, Homestead, then to Coal Center, Pa., and in 1913 was assigned to St. Margaret's church, this city.

Since assuming charge of the local parish, through his efforts, the parish has not only grown in size, but has a handsome new church building, and also a new rectory just completed at an expense of $15,000. In June, 1925, he celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination.

The members of his parish are unusually active in the interests of the parish as is evidenced by the new church and rectory just erected.

The organizations of the parish and officers are as follows: The Lyceum Club, James Fletcher, president, and Hannah Evans, secretary; The Ladies of St. Margaret and the Father McKenna Dramatic Association. These organizations have had much to do with the financial stability of the parish. The church committee consists of Thomas Doyle, J. J. Sullivan, Mike Diffley, R. E. O'Donnell and Frank Nugent.

REV. FR. P. J. MCKENNA,
Sunday Lenten Speaker.

The service will start at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Fr. McKenna, the preacher, will have for his topic, "The Efficacy of Prayer." After the sermon, Steve Griffith will sing, "Ave Maria," by Luzzi.

During benediction, there will be rendered the following selections: "Panis Angelicus," Dubois, Francis Morrissey and four part choir; "Tantum Ergo," Cardinal Merry del Val, four part choir; "Laudate," by Paul Capotolo and choir.

The soloists for vespers will be Bernard Carlin, Ambrose Casey, William Quinn and Arsen Armand.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, March 10.—A storm wave of moderate intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on March 11; this disturbance will close a short period of above normal temperatures and following the passage of the storm center, average temperatures are expected to trend downward, reaching lowest points centering on 13 and 23 but averaging below normal for the period 12 to 24 inclusive. Storm center of March 11 will be expected to move south of central transcontinental storm path but not far south as will storm wave centering on 16. Storm waves centering on 16 and 20 are expected to be the most severe of month to travel far southward and to probably attract moderate severe storms from southwest of the continent across west gulf coast. All principal storms of March traveling farther south than usual will be liable to cause very little precipitation to fall in sections 1 and 3 and western part of 5 this month. Most severe intensity of March will be expected near and east of meridian 90; cold waves will cause temperatures to average "farthest below normal in sections 2 and 4; precipitation of March will be heaviest near meridian 90 from Great Lakes to Gulf and will fall mostly near 16 and 20; least precipitation will be expected on northern and eastern slopes excepting Atlantic slope, which though just east of mountain range and sloping eastward will receive above normal precipitation during March. I expect most severe storms and most precipitation of northern hemisphere to occur near Mediterranean and along east coast of Asia including the islands east and southeast of Asia.

The following quotations from Foreign Crops and Markets issue of February 27, 1928 verify my forecasts of months ago and should be of general interest to American grain growers: "For the week ending February 20, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau the temperature in Argentina averaged 75 degrees or 2 degrees above normal while the total rainfall of 3.0 inches was more than four times the seasonable average. Some flood damage was reported in Central Europe during week ending February 23 and France still complains of excess moisture. Up to February 15 the Russian government had been able to procure 1,212,000 short tons less grain than during the same period last year."

This issue also says: "Millers of Australia have already bought a good proportion of their year's supplies from growers at the equivalent of $1.61 per bushel and farmers are reported unwilling to sell their unsold balances at current market rates, and further are not inclined to sell until they are assured of their prospects for the coming season." Australian wheat harvest January 1928 was a poor yield of fair quality grain. Their millers complain of a lack of overseas flour orders but from the above statements it appears that North American wheat farmers were cursed with a good crop in 1927 have been the gain of world grain markets and have paid Europe a good price to eat the best wheat grown in the world in 1927.

Pittsburgh Mother Slayer Of Her Two Children May Die

Justice Of Peace And "Guide" Held By Police As Swindlers In Realty

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 10.—A justice of the peace and another man were held by police here today in default of $10,000 bail for alleged fraud in connection with the "Col. Jacob Baker Estate" in Philadelphia.

The men are Justice B. F. Swartsfelder, of Seaward, Cambria county, and Frank Opella of Curtisville.

The justice was the "brains" of a novel fraud scheme, police declared.

The scheme, authorities said, was this:

Justice Swartsfelder told prospective victims that the Swartsfelders of revolutionary war days had leased, for 99 years, the property known as the Baker estate. The lease soon would expire and the property would be worth millions of dollars. He needed $1,000, Swartsfelder would tell his victims, to untangle the legal skein which had become wound around the estate during the past century. For every $1,000 loan, Swartsfelder promised, he would return nearly a million dollars.

Opella, police said, brought to Swartsfelder the gullible persons with $1,000.

The operations of the duo netted nearly $10,000, police believe. Police still investigated today to learn if there were other "guides" like Opella.

Toy Airplane Is Lodged In Throat, Childs Life Saved

Remarkable Operation Is Performed In Pittsburgh Hospital Today

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 10.—Two-year-old Martha Bechtold is recovering today from an operation which removed a toy airplane from her esophagus where it had been held fast for 36 hours.

The operation was performed by Dr. F. W. Bode and Dr. G. E. McKenzie with a laryngoscope.

The child swallowed the toy while playing with it Thursday noon. The mother's effort to extricate the plane pushed it further down the throat. When the accident was first noticed the child started coughing and choking for breath.

Dr. G. E. McKenzie retained the laryngoscope as a memento of a remarkable operation.

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 10.—While her two little children, killed by her own hands were being buried today hospital authorities reported that Mrs. Catherine Ward 25 was in a serious condition from the effects of poison and razor slashes she inflicted upon herself in a suicide attempt.

Mrs. Ward was believed to have gone suddenly crazy when she strangled her babies, Dorothy Mae 8 months and William D. Jr., 3 years.

"Irony Of Fate" Is Sister's Viewpoint On Aviators Death

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, March 10.—"It's the irony of fate," this was the comment today of Mrs. Gerald T. Morrow, on the death of her brother, Capt. William C. Byrd, one of two marine corps aviators reported killed in Nicaragua in a plane crash.

Byrd's plane fell when a giant vulture collided with it, doing damage enough to cause the aviators to lose control, according to the government report.

"He came through all that fighting in San Domingo without so much as a scratch," said Mrs. Morrow. "For him to die in that weird and unheard-of fashion is an ironical twist of destiny."

Byrd's wife, Mrs. Morrow said, was preparing to leave Minnesota to join her husband in Nicaragua next June.

Unemployed Union Miners Dispersed

Union Miners Gather At Headquarters But Are Quickly Dispersed

(International News Service) MARTINS FERRY, O., March 10.—Unemployed union miners of the Florence mine of the Y. & O. Coal company, who gathered at their headquarters near here early today were dispersed by more than a score of U. S. deputies, Ohio National Guardsmen and deputies of Clyde Hardesty, sheriff of Belmont county. No injuries or damage was reported.

Col. Don Caldwell, observer for Governor Donahy in the Belmont county mine fields; Col. Wade Christy in charge of guards relief work, and Capt. Mable of the U. S. deputies, with their men sped to the mine in autos from their headquarters at St. Clairsville early today when notified that the unemployed union men and sympathizers were congregating.

The Florence mine has been employing about 400 non-union miners since the union men failed to report for work April 1, 1927, upon the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement.

Install Officers Of Pomona Grange

State Master E. B. Dorsett
Conducts Installation At Big Beaver Hall

Large Delegation From Beaver County Attends Meeting.

Installation of officers of the Lawrence County Pomona grange was held at the meeting Wednesday evening, March 7, of the Pomona grange held at the Big Beaver grange hall where State Master of Granges E. B. Dorsett led the ceremonies and a delegation of nearly 25 members of the Beaver County Pomona were the guests of the local grangers.

The meeting of the Pomona grange consisted of afternoon and evening sessions, the ladies of the Big Beaver grange serving a dinner at 6 o'clock to their guest. The afternoon session consisted chiefly of routine business followed by an address by State Master E. B. Dorsett, who also gave the main address at the evening session.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the delegation of about 25 members of the Beaver County Pomona grange headed by the Pomona master, A. J. Todd and the past master, George Swick. At the evening session several of the guests from Beaver county made brief addresses as did also Rev. Ross Haverfield of the Westfield grange and Rev. T. C. Henderson of the North Beaver grange. At the evening meeting the feature was the installation of the officers of the Pomona grange for the year, the installing ceremonies being in charge of State Master E. B. Dorsett.

The following officers were installed: Master, David F. Kyle, North Beaver grange; overseer, S. J. Hunt, Willard grange; lecturer, Mrs. C. A. Kerr, Big Beaver grange; steward, Scott Munnell, Willard grange; assistant steward, W. S. Fullerton, Westfield grange; treasurer, G. Laurice Reno, East New Castle grange; secretary, Mrs. C. M. Hartzell, East New Castle grange; Ceres, Mrs. Belle Mayberry, East Brook grange; Pomona, Mrs. Frances McCracken, Liberty grange; Flora, Mrs. W. R. Shannon, Big Beaver grange; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Nellie M. Kyle, North Beaver grange.

Two of the officers-elect were unable to be present, B. W. McCreery, gatekeeper, Plaingrove grange, and Rev. J. I. Gregory, chaplain, Willard grange.

At the June meeting of the Pomona grange members of the grange will be the guests of the Liberty grange, the meeting to be held on Wednesday, June 6.

Beaver County Man Is Candidate For State Senate

Benjamin E. Thompson Of Beaver Announces Candidacy For Nomination

BENJAMIN E. THOMPSON

Benjamin E. Thompson of Beaver, who has announced as a candidate for state senator in the Beaver-Lawrence district, is a well-known business man of the Beaver valley.

Mr. Thompson is engaged in the manufacture of brick, being president of the Rochester Clay Products Corporation, a director of the Beaver Valley Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the Rotary Club of Rochester.

He is an advocate of law enforcement, mother's and old age pensions, improved roads and efficiency and economy in the administration of state and county affairs. His business experience and wide knowledge of the needs of his co-workers eminently fit him for the office to which he aspires.

He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and prominently identified with the Masonic fraternity.

A tender romance of mean alleys and moneyed avenues. A delightful international alliance wherein a Scotchman, Jew and Italian become the foster-fathers of a sweet Irish colleen. Fate transposes a tenement Cinderella to luxurious mansions where social pretensions allow no room for tolerance and sympathy. She learns that the kindness and affection of her humble friends mean more than money and position; and comes to realize that the honest love of her manly plumber prince far outweighs the promises of snobbish wealth.

Mrs. Gilfillan Writes Of Mediterranean Tour

Mrs. J. C. Gilfillan of this city has written the following interesting letter to The Reading Circle members, an organization in this city to which she belongs, concerning her Mediterranean tour. It was deemed of such interest by Mrs. W. W. Smith, president of the circle, that it was given to The News for publication. The letter follows:

Dear Friends:
To find a little time to write a really interesting letter is almost impossible. I had plenty of time on the way across the Atlantic but since we have begun sight seeing only a day and sometimes a night lapses between stops. Please accept this apology if the letter is dry and uninteresting.

We had a very delightful trip across except that Mr. Gilfillan enjoyed his stateroom far too much. Now that he has his sea legs he is having a glorious time. We are on an English boat owned by Cunard Line but originally by the Anchor Line, a Scotch Company. Many of the crew are Scotch and a more polite and obliging group of people, I have never seen anywhere.

As you have probably heard we have food served six times a day. Ships are noted for plenty of food. I suppose in the end we eat about the usual amount but it seems as though we were indulging ourselves quite extensively.

Liquor Is Served
Of course, as this is an English boat, liquor is served and I must say, I am quite disappointed to see how generally it is imbibed. Even at the Rotary Club Banquet, cocktails are to be served. Among a very representative group of men, Mr. Gilfillan was the only one who objected. After hearing the splendid address from Mr. Gordon it was quite a shock to see this condition. Now, I really didn't start out to lecture on Prohibition, so I had better follow my subject a little more closely.

The first stop was Maderia, an island at least twenty-five miles long and extremely mountainous. Houses with red tile roofs and a background of green presented a most beautiful picture as we sailed along its shores. As there was no dock we went ashore in tenders. However before landing, hundreds of vendors in small boats swarmed about us selling sweet violets, maderia work, baskets, beads, and many other articles too numerous to mention. Of course little was bought from these peddlers but plenty was bought on shore.

Primitive Sight
The first primitive sight was the bullock carts ready at your beckon to haul you about over the rough cobble stones. We had a guide though, who steered us along until we bargained for a bus which took us out into the country where we saw the life of the island as they live year in and year out. We stopped one place to get a picture of the women embroidering. It was one of the poorest families and the fifth of the place was indescribable. But there were many beautiful homes built on the hillside with their beautiful gardens terraced and cultivated until every inch of it bore fruit of one kind or other. As the country is so hilly, terraces are necessary in order to protect the crops from washing away. Sugar cane, bananas, grapes and vegetables are the principal things which are raised. I could tell you of the lovely rest we had on the mountain top that night but my letter would become too lengthy.

We will pass on to Portugal where we visited the town of Lisbon. It would seem on first entering the places that dirt and squalor was about the main thing in most of these towns, but after seeing these sections there are usually some beautiful parts where the wealthy people reside. A typical street scene in Lisbon was women carrying great heavy baskets of vegetables on their heads. Many had fish in them, others water pots and earthenware of various sorts. But this town and Cadiz were really insignificant in comparison with Seville.

On To Seville
As Cadiz is the port at which we docked, we had to ride by train to Seville. The ride was through rich farming country where almond trees were in bloom, oranges on the trees, acres of olive orchards were being pruned ready for the summer crop. Many fields were used to pasture sheep and goats. Cactus fences were here and there used as a cheap method of protection. Great salt pyramids were scattered here and there beside evaporation canals. Seville itself was a most delightful place, comparatively clean with beautiful parks and drives. Of course, the Alcazar and Gothic Cathedrals were charming places of Moorish as well as later architecture. To attempt to describe the lacy decorations of the walls and ceilings is next to impossible. As this had been a Moorish palace, there were beautiful gardens in connection with it. Vegetation of every kind was cultivated, so that in the summer time it must have been a blaze of color.

See Cathedral
To pass on to the cathedral which stands as the leader among Gothic architecture all over the world. We had seen cathedrals all over but this was the first one which we thought worth spending much time in. The tower built by the Moors still stands but the rest of the cathedral is Gothic. The vastness of it, I can compare to nothing I have seen in America, except that the two long facades must be five hundred feet long. The center facade is broken by the choir room and the altar of the high priests. Ninety nine priests administer to the members of this church. The state gives sixty million to the church and six million to education. Among its many rooms are the treasures of kings and queens. The jewels in some of these places were gorgeous beyond description. One crown worth a million and a half was given by the cigarette makers of Spain.

Art Masterpieces
As we had a night in Seville, we went the next day to revisit the Alcazar and the Cathedral. Many of Murillo's masterpieces are in the Cathedral. As I am not a student of art, their full worth was not appreciated by me. Later in the day we shopped. To shop in a foreign country is most fascinating for surely all your skill to interpret your wants is brought into play.

To see the homes from the street, one would think them exceedingly bare and unattractive, but when you enter, their courtyards are beautiful with their bright colored tile and tropical plants. Many of the streets are so narrow that two autos could not pass. In fact, some are just wide enough for the width of one auto.

Stop at Gibraltar
Our next stop was Gibraltar. For sightseeing, it was not very interesting. Of course, they permitted us to visit the old fortifications but not the present ones. Our first view of the rock was a real picture. We anchored just at daybreak a mile or two from the shore. The moon was still high in the heavens. The British fleet was just going out for maneuvers and the first soft lights of day were breaking over the rock. Truly it was a glorious sight. Most of the day was spent bargaining for a few choice articles to bring home. The merchants are mostly people of India. They are exceedingly close buyers and sellers and it takes a strong minded person to withstand their fire of pleading. "Please let us live. We are so poor. We want to do business, but we cannot give them away." Well you feel almost like giving in to the price you are willing to pay but you don't and later when you find you are cheated you certainly are delighted that you stood pat. As Gibraltar is a free port, most of the articles of merchandise are lower there than other places.

Algers was our last stop. The French have cleaned it up quite well and aside from the beginning of the really eastern life, there was nothing of much importance. Today is Tunis and Ancient Carthage and since that is not until afternoon, I will relate the visit later. Perhaps the rest of the trip will not be described by pen for I might be home before the letter reached you. Hope you are having interesting meetings.

Yours very sincerely,
MARY SLOANE GILFILLAN.

95-Year-Old Bride Seeks Divorce As Hubby Cooks Meals

(International News Service)
DENVER, March, 10.—One of the oldest persons to ever file suit in Denver's courts for divorce was found in Mrs. Rosi Vitello Perello, 95-year-old bride of Francisco Perello, 55. The couple have been married one year. The grounds for divorce were cruelty, non-support and fraud.

When reporters learned of the novel proceedings, they flocked to the Perello home expecting to find the place in strife and turmoil, but there was no evidence of physical cruelty. Rosi, as Perello calls her, was in the bedroom arranging a colored crazy quilt on the bed, while Francisco the "mister" of the kitchen preparing the evening meal. Spinach and toast was the menu, according to appearances.

Both are of foreign birth and Mrs. Perello cannot speak English. Despite the fact that she has lived in Denver forty years she clings tenaciously to many old world customs. Perello speaks a broken tongue.

"Oh! Troubles, that's what you want to know about?" exclaimed Francisco. Because he felt sorry for her because of treatment the old lady received from her grandchildren, Francisco related in his broken English how he decided "to take a chance and marry Rosi." He had never been married before.

"I buy her fruit, I cook for her. She throws out nice things I cook. She is a big grouch, she is a crank, that's all."

According to the petition filed in the court, agreement was made at the time the couple were married to divide their property half and half. Perello, the petition states, did not live up to the contract in that Mrs. Perello has never received any of the five thousand dollars he was supposed to have had simply because he said, he did not have the $5,000.

Mrs. Perello asks for $100 dollars a month alimony, and asks also that the deed to her home be turned back to her.

Perello is crippled with rheumatism and is not able to work very much. He says he has tried to live up to the marriage contract by doing the work around the house.

Junior High Girls Hear Mrs. Irvine

Business and Professional Women's Clubs Plan Series Of Meetings

Mrs. S. E. Irvine, former superintendent of schools in Sante Fe, N. M., spoke to about 70 girls of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school Friday afternoon on the attractions of the teaching profession.

According to Miss Edith Dunlap, chairman of the education committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club of New Castle, this was the first of a series of meetings to be held with the girls of the Junior high schools of the city whereby the different vocations open to girls of the present day will be presented to the students.

A census of the vocational desires of the girls of the schools has been made by the club and each week a competent speaker will present a different vocation to the girls who have chosen that particular vocation. On next week a business career will be presented to the girls. Miss Mary E. Brown, a member of the education committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club, has charge of this special work. Miss Nannie Mitchell and Miss Edith Dunlap, other members of the committee, are ably assisting.

Mrs. Irvine, who was formerly superintendent of schools in Sante Fe, N. M., and an active member of the Business and Professional Women's Club in that city, gave a most interesting and instructive address to the girls Friday afternoon. The students were most interested and after the addresses were given opportunities to ask questions. So great was the interest that many stayed after the hour sounded and continued to question the speaker.

Orange Ladies To Attend Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Seventy members of the Orange ladies' lodge met for their semi-monthly session Friday evening in their lodge rooms in the First National Bank building. On account of sickness the class of candidates to be initiated could not be present. At the business meeting the ladies decided to cancel a large delegation to the banquet at the Methodist church being given Tuesday evening by the Men's Orange lodge.

They also planned to attend the annual Orange picnic being given July 12 at Westview Park near Pittsburgh.

Happy Hour Class Elects Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Twenty-three members of the Happy Hour class of the Slippery Rock church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Dacko of Spring Stop for their monthly meeting.

A feature of the session was the election of officers, as follows: president, Mrs. Charles Wilson; vice president, Mrs. James Friday; secretaries, Mrs. Meighan and Mrs. Claire Friday; treasurers, Mrs. William Travis and Miss Adda Smiley. Flower committee, Mrs. Paul Elliott, Mrs. Eli Yoho and Mrs. Earl Friday.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a social period and lunch were enjoyed.

Mrs. Turner Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Mrs. B. D. Turner of Second street entertained the members of the E. B. B. Club at their semi-monthly meeting Friday afternoon.

The evening was spent socially and special guests present were Mrs. Audley Cunningham and Mrs. John McKim. The meeting opened with a delicious one o'clock luncheon with covers laid for 10. St. Patrick colors predominated in the color scheme. Mrs. Klinedinst will be the next hostess, the exact date not having been set.

Ladies Aid Society Elects Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—At a recent all-day meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Slippery Rock church conducted at the manse, the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. Walter Steele; vice president, Mrs. C. W. MacGeorge; secretary, Mrs. Jane Friday; and treasurer, Mrs. Paul Elliott.

A delicious twelve dinner was enjoyed at noon and 23 members of the society were present.

Children Crowd To Childrens' Hour

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Two hundred and fifty-seven children attended the weekly childrens' hour conducted by Rev. C. W. MacGeorge at the Baptist church Friday evening.

Young Paul Bartel favored with a saxophone solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Leona MacGeorge. Then followed the lecture "The Bread Market of the World." The pleasant program concluded with Biblical movies and the "Funnies."

Old Clothes Frolic At Country Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 11.—William Seaton and his committee of Entertainment for the Ellwood Country club met and planned an Old Clothes Frolic to take place Friday evening March 16 at the club for the members. Each couple is to try and out-do the others in wearing the oldest clothes in their wardrobes, and a pleasant evening will no doubt follow.

BIBLE CLASSES TO MEET THIS EVENING

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 11.—Members of the Adult and Ladies' Guild Bible classes of the Knox Presbyterian church will conduct a joint-meeting this evening in the church, starting with a seven dinner at 6:30 o'clock. A fine program is anticipated.

"Sleeps" For Weeks

Unconscious since January, when she was struck by a bus, Miss Helen Buschmann, student at Lake Erie college, Painesville, O., may remain in that condition for as long as five years, physicians say. They believe her brain cells are "scrambled" from the shock, and there is a slight chance that the cells may in time reassemble themselves.

Entertains At Bridge Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Mrs. Carl Davidson of Seventh street entertained a number of couples Friday evening at bridge at her home. Three tables were in play and at the conclusion of an interesting series of games score honors went to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seidel.

Later the hostess served delicious refreshments, embellished with St. Patrick colors. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Charles Ross.

CHURCH LECTURE TO BE ILLUSTRATED

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 11.—Members of the Brotherhood Bible class and Queen Esther Bible class of the Trinity Lutheran church are to enjoy a lecture Monday evening in the church given by Rev. L. J. Baker, pastor of the church who has personally visited "Yellowstone National Park," and is prepared to give interesting facts concerning its scenic and historical beauties, and illustrating same with colored stereoptical slides. The lecture is open to friends of the two classes.

KNOX CHURCH

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Those who heard Dr. Greist Thursday evening at Knox church enjoyed a treat. The message this mission-ary brought from Point Barrow, Alaska, was interesting. Point Barrow is only seven hundred miles from the North Pole. The inhabitants are Eskimos. Dr. Greist has charge of the hospital and preaches in the churches and small missions where he has organized since going there.

The Sunshine party and kitchen shower will be held in the church Saturday evening. The Adult Bible class and Ladies' Guild are in charge of the meeting. Twelve dinner at 6:30.

Every member canvass will be held Sunday morning, March 11. Sunday school March 11 at two p. m. Preaching service at three p. m. The contest is now on among the classes to see which class will have the largest attendance at church during the month of March.

GRANGE WILL GIVE PLAY

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Eleven members of Big Beaver Grange will present a play entitled "Little Miss Jack" at the North Sewickley Grange hall on Friday evening, March 16, at eight o'clock. The play is composed of four acts. The New Galilee Mandolin Club of eight pieces will furnish the music.

FORTNIGHT CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 11.—Members of the Fortnight club are scheduled to meet Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Harris of Wayne avenue. Bridge will be the diversion of the evening.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clyde Hill of Fountain avenue for their monthly meeting.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

The Honorable M. A. Bicket and B. J. Bell attended the annual Traffic Club banquet which took place Thursday evening in the three ballrooms of the William Penn hotel. Fifteen hundred were in attendance at this, the big social event of the club year.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gelbach, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Daley motored to Woodlawn Friday evening where they were the dinner-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher of that city.

Mrs. E. C. Wright and Miss Jerry Dunn are visiting Hollidaysburg, where Miss Jerry who is enrolled in Highland Hall for next year, will attend a Tea, to meet her future school associates.

Local Teams Score Double Victory In Final Game Here

Coach Lee's Cagers Completely Outplay Springdale Team With Score Of 36-19

(By TONY PASTA)

ELLWOOD CITY, March 10.—Ellwood City high's basketball teams ended the season here last night at the Lincoln gym by winning a double victory over Springdale. Coach Lee's cagers outclassed the visitors and won 36-19 while Sara McGoun's lassies came through with a thrilling win by a 27-26 score.

Coach Lee's cagers hit an unusual stride and completely outplayed Springdale. Dunn, Justine and Freidoff launched a fierce attack with Dunn feasting, tossing in five buckets. Justine collected three and Freidoff two. W. King showed up poorly, sinking one and missing four chances from the free toss line.

Captain "Huck" MacMurdo played his last game for the blue and white by playing his usual steady game. Slocum ended his career as a basketball player for Ellwood and made a good performance by sinking two. Both of these lads have been valuable assets to the team and will be missed by their mates next season.

The Desmond brothers and Mayer were stars for the losers and played a fast clean game.

In the preliminary Captain Irene Ross and her maidens again kept the laurels at home by coping a thriller which was decided by a single point. The winning basket was tossed in a minute or so before the whistle blew.

Steir and Bourne played a bang-up game, giving a good exhibition of floor work. This is nothing unusual for Miss Steir, the scrappy center, who is expected to shine more than ever next year. She has played a fine game this season and will help to form the nucleus of the coming year.

Ross and Bourne played their last game and will be keenly missed by the team next year. Turner, Ketterer and Brown also graduate.

Miss Shaw played brilliantly for the visitors and gave Ross close competition for scoring honors. K. Boyd also starred for her mates.

Last night ended the season and brought to a close one of the most successful records in basketball ever made by the Ellwood high. It is true that Lee's passers lost a number of contests but always played until the last minute, never giving up hope. An unusually good showing was made by Sara McGoun and her lassies by piling up a crop of victories.

PITTSBURGH MAN IS ## TAKEN ILL ON STREET

Police were called about 4:30 Friday afternoon to the place of business of Scott Paisley at Croton avenue and East Washington street to take charge of a man who had fallen over in front of that store. Officers Samuels and Lockard answered the call for assistance and removed the man to the Shengango Valley hospital. It was found that he was suffering from neuralgia of the heart and that his condition was quite serious. The sick man gave the name of Marcus Silverman. He is 50 years of age and formerly was an employee of the A. & P. Company in Pittsburgh.

OFFICERS REPORT WALKS

SOME IN BAD SHAPE

Officers Samuels and Ritty last night reported to the central police station that the sidewalks on both sides of Sampson street, near that street's intersection with Grant, are in bad shape. This condition, the officers reported, was due to the fact that trucks of the McQuiston Company, as well as other concerns, drive over the sidewalks at this point and considerable damage is being done in that manner.

Set Date For Tag Day For Hospital

GROVE CITY, Pa., March 10.—Saturday, March 24th, has been set as the date of the annual Tag Day for the benefit of the Grove City hospital, according to the announcement of the Hospital Auxiliary today. The receipts of the annual Tag Day will be used this year for the purchasing of a new operating table for the hospital. This and additional equipment is needed at the local hospital, and the auxiliary desires the co-operation of the town people in the annual benefit Tag Day.

Boy Scout News

TROOP 17.
First Presbyterian church Troop 17 met Friday evening at the church with Scoutmaster Ed Schmidt in charge of the meeting, assisted by Melvin Grant. A number of the boys were present.

In preparation for the Scout Circus, practice was held. Deputy Commissioner John E. Thomas was present and spoke to the boys in the interest of scouting. Mrs. Thomas was a special visitor to the troop.

According to an announcement made by Scoutmaster Schmidt, the troop will meet Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, from where the boys will go to the Carnegie auditorium where the meeting will be held.

TROOP 5.
Scoutmaster Ralph F. Davis, together with Committeemen Walter

Dearmont and Sol Davis were present when Troop 5 had its weekly meeting Friday evening. As an honorary member, Clayton Reeves was voted into the troop. Bob Rodgers administered the oath and Mr. Dearmont presented the tenderfoot badge. Certificates for 1928 were presented by Mr. Dearmont, after which Mr. Reeves gave the boys their tenderfoot badges.

In the patrol contest, the Flying Eagle is leading with 840 points, while the Silver Fox stands second with 764 points.

WALLPAPER IS CAUSE OF FIRE LAST NIGHT

A small blaze was occasioned last night about 6:10 o'clock at the home of D. Linsey, 1813 East Washington street, by the fact that some wallpaper scraps had been placed on some ashes near the heater and had taken fire from some of the hot ashes. There was no property loss owing to the prompt arrival of the firemen, who were called by an alarm from box 48.

Reznor Company At Full Production

MERCER, Pa., March 10.—The Reznor Manufacturing Company of Mercer will be in full production of their plant by the date of March 15.

The plating and machine shops are about on full time now. Making up of orders for fall delivery will start at this time. It is reported that the outlook for business in 1928 is good.

A full attendance is requested at a meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, which will be held Monday evening, March 12, in the K. of C. home, North Jefferson street. As an added attraction, a lecture will be present.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

Buffalo Bill, Scout Of Scouts—Part XII
Billy's Exploit

LEEING ALONG THE SHORE OF PLUM CREEK TOWARD OLD FORT KEARNY WITH A PARTY OF HERDERS WHO HAD BEEN ATTACKED AND ROBBED OF THEIR CATTLE BY A BAND OF HOSTILE INDIANS, BILLY CODY WAS STARTLED TO SEE AN INDIAN CROUCHING ON THE BANK ABOVE HIM. THE WARRIOR, THINKING HIMSELF UNSEEN, PREPARED TO LEAP DOWN AND KNIPE THE LAD.

HE RED MAN WAS QUICK IN HIS MOVEMENTS, BUT BILLY WAS QUICKER. AS HIS ENEMY SPRANG FROM THE BANK, THE BOY BROUGHT HIS RIFLE TO HIS SHOULDER AND PULLED THE TRIGGER. THE BULLET SPED TRUE TO ITS MARK AND THE INDIAN SPRAWLED LIFELESS AT HIS INTENDED VICTIM'S FEET.

BILLY'S COMRADES HEARD THE SHOT AND CAME RUNNING BACK TO JOIN HIM. WHEN THEY SAW THE DEAD INDIAN, WHO PROVED TO BE A CHIEF AND THE LEADER OF THEIR PURSUERS, THEY WERE LOUD IN THEIR PRAISE OF THE BOY'S MARKSMANSHIP AND PLUCK.

DISCOURAGED BY THE DEATH OF THEIR CHIEF, THE REDSKINS GAVE UP THE CHASE, AND THE FUGITIVES REACHED FORT KEARNY (NEB.) IN SAFETY. BILLY'S SHOT HAD SAVED THE DAY. THE REPORT OF HIS EXPLOIT QUICKLY SPREAD AROUND THE FORT AND THE BOY FOUND HIMSELF THE CENTER OF A CIRCLE OF ADMIRING SOLDIERS AND PLAINSMEN.

CONTINUED MONDAY.

"Y" SENIOR TOURNAMENT HERE TODAY

Seven Teams To Fight For Title In "Y" Tourney

New Castle Y. M. C. A. Host Today To Seven Association Floor Teams

FINAL GAME IS SET FOR TONIGHT

New Castle Y. M. C. A. is host today to the annual tournament of the Y. M. C. A. senior basketball teams in their quest for the championship of western Pennsylvania. It is the first time in the history of the local institution that the tourney has been brought to this city. Games will be played this afternoon and also tonight at the "Y".

The cream of the Y. M. C. A. teams of the western half of the state vie for honors here today. The following teams have entered the tourney: Hill Top, Coraopolis, East Liberty, Wilkesburg, North Boroughs, Lawrenceville and New Castle.

The tourney is conducted on a strictly amateur basis and no outside players are allowed to play on the various teams. All teams are composed of members of the Y. M. C. A. in good standing.

Walter E. Kisker, the energetic New Castle Y. M. C. A. physical director, has charge of the tourney today and he has been mighty busy arranging for the interests of the various teams that will compete here. The pairings for the tourney were made at 2 o'clock this afternoon with the teams not knowing their opponents prior to coming here. The names of the teams were placed in a hat and drawn out by the captains of the various teams.

Two of the games in the tourney were to be played at the senior high school floor this afternoon, starting at 5:30. And one of the games will be played at the Y. M. C. A. floor this afternoon. With seven teams entered, one of the associations drew a bye and they will enter the semi-final game tonight at the Y. M. C. A. court.

Final Game Tonight. The final game of the tourney will be played tonight following the semi-final games. The games in the afternoon are open to the public, but a small admission is charged to the night games at the "Y".

The New Castle team in the tourney today is composed of the following: Coen, Fraser, Jones, Voiesko, Franklin, Hartman, H. Kroen, Carmody and Kerr. The locals are going to wage a hard fight for the title. A number of the boys on the New Castle team have been playing in the city league.

The competition in the tourney is very keen. The Pittsburgh district Y. M. C. A. teams have long been noted for their prowess and they are bent on taking the honors. The Hilltop team is reputed to be strong, and according to word received here today they are sending their strongest array to New Castle. The Lawrenceville Y. M. C. A. team with a group of former college and high school stars has always had a say-so to the various tourneys and they are expected to be in the semi-finals tonight.

It was the intention at first to stage the tourney today and select the two teams to battle for the championship. With the game being played here Wednesday night, but owing to the fact that the Sharpshooters team dropped out, made it necessary to revise the program and stage all of the games here today.

The following officials of the Mahoning Valley Referees' association will handle the games today: Sam Richards, Dave Hoskins, Gus Slovinsky and Ray Nott.

Champs Will Be Banquet Guests

Westminster's Great Team To Be Honored On Thursday Night

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 10.—Plans are almost complete for the banquet in honor of the Westminster basketball team, tri-state conference champions, to be held in the United Presbyterian church next Thursday night, March 15.

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald is in charge of the affair and announces that the banquet will be open to the general public. Special honored guests of the college will be the basketball squad, the student managers, newspaper men and a number of other invited guests.

All speakers will be from the Westminster student body, faculty, basketball squad and alumni body. It is thought that about 300 people will be in attendance at the banquet. Last year's banquet, attended by nearly 200 was one of the largest ever held but the excellent showing made by the Titans this year will of course bring even more followers of the Blue and White to New Westminster Thursday to pay honor to Coach Lawther and his fighting Titans.

East Brook Boys Win From Wampum

Fast Game Is Played At East Brook; Girls Team Also Wins

East Brook High School team topped Wampum 30 to 15 in a County League game played at the East Brook High School floor on Friday night. The East Brook girls defeated the China Girls 28 to 2 in the preliminary game.

The East Brook boys started a fast attack and at the end of the first half led by 23 to 8 and in the final half the East Brook second team was used almost all of the time. Kwiat, and Peterson led the attack for East Brook. Herbert was the best bet for the Wampum team.

The East Brook girls team literally swamped the China maidens of New Castle 28 to 2 in the preliminary game. The playing of Miss McConnell with eight baskets was a feature.

The summaries:

Ayers Is Out For Last Game

Stellar Westminster Guard Is Unable To Play For Westminster Tonight

BLUE AND WHITE SEASON TO CLOSE

Grove City Five Will Prove Difficult Foe For Westminster Team.

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 10.—Coach John Lawther's battered and state Westminster outfit, after having traveled a fast pace through a long, drawn-out schedule, face the clever Grove City passers tonight at New Westminster in the season's finale.

There is little hope of victory in the Lawther camp, as Ayers, stellar guard, will not be in the lineup; and Connor, Delahunty, O'Donovan, and Captain Lewis, all regulars, are in poor physical condition. The setback at the hands of Geneva on Thursday night was not altogether unexpected. Neither Lawther nor any others connected with athletic affairs would offer alibis concerning the Coventry victory. Geneva won, that's all.

When Grove City opened the regular season on February 6 by eking out a 26-24 victory over the Titans, Westminster was not yet in its prime. Now, however, the United Presbyterians are played out and are looking forward only with interest to the end of the season as the bright spot. In a long series of 19 games to date, the Lawther-coached machine has won 16 games and has run up a total of 726 points to 397 for opponents.

Lawther will start Delahunty and O'Donovan at forward; Connor at center and Captain Lewis at guard. McMeekin, Fisher or Witherspoon will be used in the other guard.

Mr. Massey, the Canadian minister, calls a highbrow "one whose learning has outstripped his intelligence." We apologize to the ladies who try to out-talk one another in picture shows the other day we called them low-brows.

Bessemer High Wins County Championship; Defeats Union Hi 38-15

(Special To The News) BESSEMER, Pa., March 10.—Bessemer High school practically clinched the Lawrence county Class B basketball championship by defeating Union's tilters to the tune of 38-15 last night on the Bessemer High floor.

In the first period, the game held startling possibilities. Union running up five points before the locals got a single score. In their turn, Bessemer then made ten points straight, and from then on, easily out-distanced their opponents.

About the middle of the third quarter, Bessemer placed her second team on the floor. A little while before the game ended, the third team was put in play, all except one in the whole squad having a hand in the overthrow of Union. The leading scorers were Stanley, of Bessemer, with 15 points to his credit, and Schiek of Union, with 14 of Union's 15 points to his credit.

Bessemer topped New Wilmington last Friday, at New Wilmington, the score being 33-13. This, together with their Union victory, practically gives

Declare Holiday To Honor College Team

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 10.—Westminster will honor its great basketball team here Monday by enjoying a college holiday, free from classes, according to an announcement made yesterday morning in chapel by President W. Charles Wallace.

Regardless of the outcome of tonight's game with Grove City, Coach John Lawther's basketball squad will have completed one of the best years in the history of athletics at Westminster. The tri-state conference championship has been won and in the event that the Titans do the seemingly impossible stunt of defeating Grove City, the district non-conference championship will also go to the United Presbyterians.

With a record of 16 victories out

Italian Reserves Win League Crown

Beat North Street Girls 14 To 2 In Final Game Of Series

Hailed as champions of the Girls Reserve league, the Italian Girl Reserves won over the North Street team by a 14 to 2 score Friday evening on the Y. W. C. A. floor in the final game of the tournament.

Almost all of the scoring was done in the first half, when the Italian girls had things much their own way. However, in the second count, North Street defense tightened, and their rivals were allowed to score but 2 points in this period. This was made possible by the fine defense work of Mary Lou Burkhardt and Francis Long.

Has Long-Term Mortgage On Job

Kirkpatrick Of Ellwood City Hopes To Turn Tables On Conrad

ZILL TO CLASH WITH TENNESSEE

BILL JOLLY today announced that all four boys for Monday night's pugilistic whirligig at the Old Armory have been arranged and he anticipates a barrel of action when the fighters go to the center of the ring as every one of them has been tested and found not wanting in real fighting ability.

While the main bout between Zivie Osborn and Freddy Fitzgerald is bound to attract a lot of interest, the fight between Jimmie Kirkpatrick of Ellwood City and Eddie Conrad of Cleveland has awakened a lot of "pep" as the first time these two met there were two knockdowns and Conrad took the decision.

Two preliminaries which should bring out a lot of slugging have been arranged, Jolly having signed Young Jiggers of Pittsburgh to battle Tony Casper of Cleveland and Jimmie Zill of Youngstown Ohio will go on with Young Tennessee who lifts his blows from the floor and lets them land where they will.

Give and Take
Casper is a rugged chap who can give and take and when he steps into the ring Monday night he will be pitted against another slugger, Jiggers. Zill who was beaten by Tennessee at Canton, O., is a brother to Tony and Al Zill and expects to reverse the decision here. They met sometime ago at Canton.

Fitzgerald has been training at Youngstown and the Irishman hopes to score a victory over the Italian of Cleveland who has been training with Frankie Rio, Bert Galliano and a host of other fighters who have gone under the management of either Jimmie Dunn or Johnny Kilbane.

The eight pugilists will taper off with light workouts tomorrow so that their hands will be in good shape and they will enter the ring without any slight cuts above their eyes as nothing handicaps a pugilist in action as much as a sore hand or a cut eye as it generally is reopened with the first blow and impairs the vision.

Mt. Jackson Team Loses Contest To Wilmington High

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, March 10.—Coming back strong in the second half the New Wilmington high school basketball team defeated the Mt. Jackson passers 28-18 in a fast game here last night.

New Wilmington took the lead early in the encounter and were leading 8-2 at the end of the first period. But the Jackson team staged a come-back and held a 13-10 lead at the end of the first half. Scoring early in the second half the college town quintet again took the lead.

Herriott, Patterson and Newton starred for the college town combine while Sherer and Grieder played well for Mt. Jackson.

In the preliminary contest the New Wilmington girls defeated the Mt. Jackson sextet 48-29. The Jackson lassies started out strong and were trailing only two points at half time but were outscored through the teamwork of Wilmington in the second half. Miss Patterson starred for Mt. Jackson, scoring all of her team's points. Miss Minner starred for the Blue and Gold sextet.

Sport Ritticisms

By BILL RITT

The chief thing the heavyweight elimination tournament seems to have eliminated is the fans' interest.

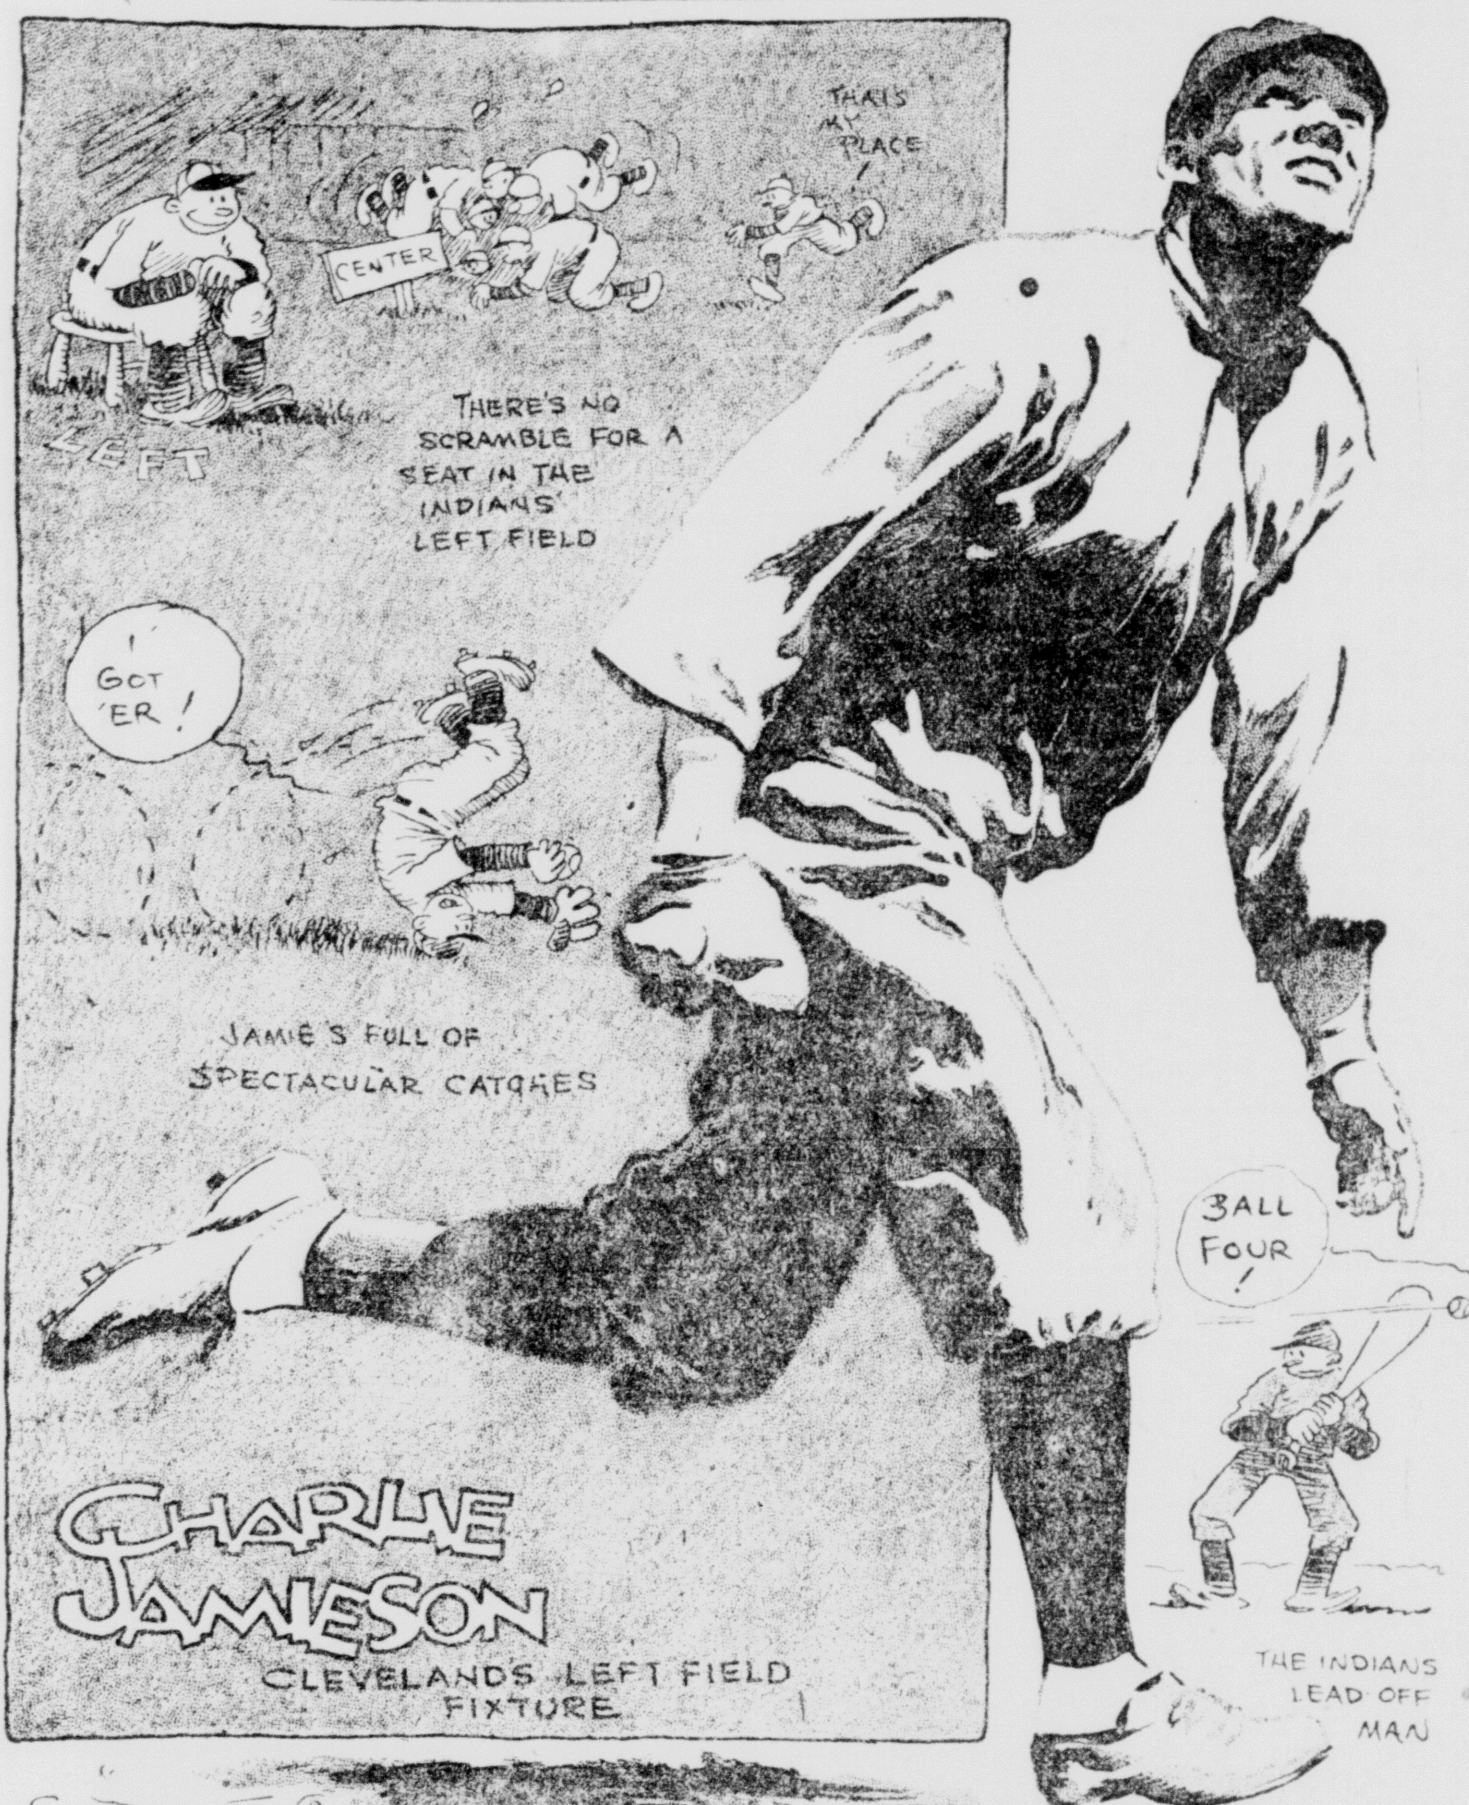

An easterner advocates all sport contests end in ties. That's been the case in wrestling for years.

A grappling fan is a fellow willing to pay money to see two other fellows perspire.

Brooklyn ball players are said to be using cold cream to keep their hands from getting rough. Now there'll be a big scramble for ball park beauty parlor concessions.

Sport fans are applauding the fact that a Yale and a Princeton crew are using the same coach. If that happened in baseball it would be a scandal.

There is only one time when we feel sorry for Mr. Gene Tunney. And that is when the champ sends in his income tax.

By JACK SORDS

Ever since the day Tris Speaker left the Cleveland baseball club the Indians have tried in vain to find a worthy successor to the Grey Eagle in center field.

A never ending procession of ball tossers have tried to land the post at which Tris shone like the star he was. But to no avail. Center field is still a problem with the Indians.

High field presents almost the same situation. The situation there seems never to be definitely settled though Homer Summa will probably occupy that post again this year as he did last season.

However, over in left garden the Indians feel safe. It's been many a year, now, since the Cleveland club had to worry about that corner of the outfield. Having a broken neck or like disaster, the post belongs to Charlie Jamieson, one of the unsung heroes of the diamond.

Old reliable Charlie! Those who study the game in the American league give him credit for being the loop's best left fielder. He has been on the job starring for the Indians since 1919 and since Tris Speaker left has been the only "immovable" player in the garden. Nobody is going to get Jamie's job.

A contemporary of Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Harry Heilmann, Al Simmons, and Speaker, Jamieson has gone from one season to another unscathed by the fad of large and almost without more than a passing glance.

Jamie is a ball hawk—a dashing figure capable of snaring any drive in his territory. His throwing arm is accurate and powerful, it is doubtful if there is a better one in the big time. He actually can throw "strikes" over the plate from any corner of his field.

The Indian outfielder started out as a pitcher with Buffalo way back in 1912, also doing an odd job now and then as outfielder. After three years with the International league crowd he was sold to Washington as an outfielder.

Two seasons with the Senators seemed enough to the management and Charlie was let go to the Athletics on waivers. Jamie was a complete fizzle with Philadelphia.

To show how low the outfielder ranked in Connie Mack's opinion, the A's boss tossed Jamieson in for good measure when he traded Larry Gardner and Elmer Meyers to Cleveland for Bobby Roth. Anything to get rid of this palooka Jamieson, that was the idea it seemed.

Fate must have chuckled at that deal for Jamieson eventually proved to be worth as much as three of them together, if not more.

The Indian uniform seemed to work magic with Charlie for he immediately began to play stellar ball and has kept it up ever since. From 1919 to 1924 Jamieson improved, reaching his peak at bat in the latter year.

Since joining the Tribe, Jamieson's batting averages have been: 1919, .353; 1920, .319; 1921, .310; 1922, .323; 1923, .345; 1924, .395; 1925, .296; 1926, .299; 1927, .306.

Jamieson's home is in Patterson, N. J. In his younger days he was somewhat of a basketball and soccer star. But as neither of these sports has the lure of the reward of baseball, he turned to the diamond for a livelihood.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

SOMEWHERE SOUTH, March 10.—Charles Fred Lucas, appropriately nicknamed "Red", sees no reason why he shouldn't have another good year with the Cincinnati Reds.

He admits that he had a "fair" one last year.

And Jack Hendricks chimes in, "Fair, my eye, he had a perfect year."

Lucas was listed in the club insurance policies, the club rosters and the advance notices as a pitcher. Which gave Red a laugh. He was remembering things.

For instance, that time he played shortstop through a double-header at Philadelphia and then hopped back to Cincinnati and pitched a whole game the next day.

And the time he played left field. And the occasions when Hendricks sent him in to cover second base.

All told Lucas played in 80 games, which is some sort of record for a pitcher. He broke into 37 as an honest-to-goodness pitcher, won 18 and lost 11.

Bobby Wallace, famous old shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, and of late years a member of the Cincinnati Reds' coaching staff, still recalls in vivid fashion the time the special train carrying the Cleveland and St. Louis clubs from the Ohio city to the Browns' home lot back in 1904 was wrecked.

And he tells this one on Charlie Hickman, the popular old "piano legs" boy and a great slugger.

The teams had wound up a series in Cleveland and were dashing back to Missouri for a double-header. Somewhere along the route the train ran into a derail. The Cleveland club's car was thrown over on its side and partially wrecked. The St. Louis car was swept off its trucks but remained upright.

"The first person I saw climb out of that car," says Wallace, "was Charlie. He had his bats in his hand."

Speaking of train wrecks, Jack

Hendricks, manager of the Reds, recalls one.

In 1911 he and Bill Rourke now a scout for the Reds, were managing the Denver and Omaha clubs in the Western League. The teams made an overnight hop together. The train was wrecked. Twenty-five persons in the train were killed, but not a single ball player was injured. Tough hides these boys have, what?

There will be no change in the athletic policy of West Point it was stated in reports from the military academy today following the change in administration by which Major General William R. Smith becomes superintendent.

Pitt, unconquered during the basketball season, will participate in their last game of the season tonight when they take the floor against the Nittany Lions at State College. The Panthers have captured 20 basketball victories.

Pasquale Natalie of Baltimore dropped from the undefeated group in the National pocket billiard tournament at Chicago by losing to Peter Durocher of Chicago 125 to 36 in 14 innings. Natalie had previously broken even in two encounters.

Considerable interest is being shown in the appearance of Freddy Fitzgerald here Monday night against Zivie Osborn, inasmuch as he is the only battler who has knocked out Mickey Solomon, the local lad who dropped a close decision to Allen Beatty at McKeesport.

Francis T. Hunter, second ranking tennis star yesterday captured the Florida singles title in a furious give and take match with John Hennessy of Indianapolis, 6-4, 15-13, 6-2. His straight set victory was taken by the conqueror of Henri Cochet.

George (Kid) Lavigne, 59, former lightweight boxing champion, died at his home in Detroit last night following a brief illness. He was, in his day, rated as one of the greatest fighters of his pounds and started his career in 1885, spending 16 years in the ring.

Allie Wolff, captain of the Penn State boxing team, will be lost for the intercollegiate championships next week and the Temple university dual meet today at State College. Wolff injured his arm in a fall off the outdoor board running track last night.

Johnny Morrison who took French leave of the Pirates last season just when his pitching was most needed, has broken his silence and the Kentuckian has applied to Judge Landis for reinstatement and hopes to be allowed to return to the diamond.

Paris Kid Cargie, lightweight of New Castle, who has been campaigning in eastern rings under the management of Leo P. Flynn who managed Jack Dempsey for his second fight against Gene Tunney is spending a few days with his relatives here.

Members of the Lawrence County club are making arrangements for their bench show to be held in the Cathedral here in May. There are many good dogs in New Castle and Lawrence county and there will be entries from all parts of the county.

Chauncey Davis, city hall employee and a judge of boxing at the Old Armory, has been confined to his residence on the West Side by illness for a week. Davis contracted a cold while performing his duties and had to take to his bed.

According to reports from Pasos Robles where Donie Bush and the Pirates are training, the diminutive manager is preparing to wield the axe on the boys who will hit the Tin Can trail. Cronin, it is said will go and a recruit, Bartell will likely remain.

Floor Notes

Falcon Midgets came from behind to defeat the East Siders, 34 to 20. The Falcons improved in their play after the first quarter and in the last period held the East Siders to two field goals and scored 11 points.

Rambler Juniors overwhelmed the Chandlers 30 to 16 in a slow game at the Lincoln gymnasium. The Ramblers got an early start and were not headed. At the end of the half the score was 16 to 3.

The West Pittsburgh Methodists won from the Monarchs at West Pittsburgh 22 to 18. The game was close throughout. Sanders of the West Pittsburgh team scored 13 points while Turk of the Monarchs netted 14 for the Monarchs.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS

International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, March 10.—Speculative interest at the week-end centered around a few of the motor, steel and specialty stocks which have been making stock market history since last Saturday morning. Radio Corporation took the play from General Motors at the beginning of trading today when a block of 25,000 shares of the stock was brought outright at 114, an advance of 10 points from Friday's close. General Motors rose only a point to 160 in the first period, but the turnover at 160 was unusually heavy.

Stock traders in all parts of the country have jumped to the conclusion that if General Motors executives were willing to pay $20,000,000 in cash for 200,000 shares of the stock, the price of the stock must be important future developments of which the country which combined with the Wall Street's explanation for the avalanche of buying orders for the stock from all parts of the country, combined with "inside" buying and pool activities, have raised the price up 25 points in a little more than a week.

Wall Street estimates of new profits won by prominent traders in the stock this week range all the way from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000.

It is known that William C. Durant, the former president of General Motors Corporation, has been bullish on the stock since it sold below 75 in 1924. Through stock dividends and split-ups each holder of 100 shares of stock at that time now has 300 shares, worth $48,000, a profit of $40,000 per share, or $400,000 per thousand shares.

Other operators and large winners in the stock, according to Wall Street reports, include the Chicago and North Western, the Fisher Brothers of Detroit, Graham Brothers and Clarence R. Bittling of Detroit. In the list of permanent investors in General Motors appear such prominent names as the DuPont family of Wilmington, the Morgan Banking partners of New York, John J. Raskob, the financial genius of the Motors Corporation and Alfred Sloan J. the mechanical operating head.

Since reaching a peak price of 104 a few weeks ago, the stock has been under a heavy selling pressure, and declined nearly 20 points to 88. Last Saturday, while General Motors was widely soaring to record high prices, Radio was comparatively quiet, closing the week at 96. Opening yesterday at 100 for a block of 10,000 shares, the stock was one of the fast steps of Friday's spectacular movement, closing the day at 107 1/2. The stock opened today at 114 for a block of 25,000 shares, declined to 111 on profit taking and rushed up to 116 in heavy trading.

Whipping Episode In Kansas City Is Now Repented

Mother Repents In Jail Cell For Whipping Of Daughter;
Fined $100

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Kan., March 10.—In jail today because she could not pay a $100 fine, Mrs. Charles Woodside, former circus lion tamer and mother of 16 year old Lorene Jones, repented whipping her daughter with a clothes hangar.

In a filled city auditorium last night a dramatic police court trial was held. Women fainted, many tears were shed, prayers were offered and hundreds of persons on the outside clamored to get in.

Lorene, who last week failed to give her mother an account of her whereabouts when she was out late, was the complaining witness and alleged she had been punished in an unusual manner. Several witnesses testified as the "spiritual attitude" of the daughter and Mrs. Woodside failed to defend herself.

"I will be crucified before I testify against my child," Mrs. Woodside told Judge Fred R. White. "I'll plead guilty." Then turning to Lorene, she sobbed:

Lorene, dear, did you have me arrested of your own accord? Tell me. If you did, I'll plead guilty and do a year in jail." She declined to take the witness oath.

Miss Inez Mackinnon, a teacher in the school at which Lorene attends, kept the girl from answering. The teacher said she wanted to aid the girl in defying the wishes of her mother that she study to be a teacher.

Mrs. Woodside was sent to jail when she failed to pay the $100 fine assessed by Judge White.

ABE MARTIN On Personal Letters, Etc.

IT DON'T TAKE LONG T' WAIT A YEAR

One o' th' finest feelin's ther is 't' day comes with gittin' a long, newsy, hand written letter from an ole friend, or even an ole fashioned penicil scribbled Manila postal card, an' nouncin' th' arrival of a new baby, or th' marriage of a distant cousin. Telegrams, picture cards, an' marked newspapers, an' formal typewritten letters, don't fill th' bill like a good, liberal, amateurish, mussy, hand made, unpunctuated letter from somebody we like. It takes lots o' trouble t' git ever' thing together t' sit down an' turn out a hand made letter. Ther's considerable labor, an' thought, an' friendship behind a hand wrote letter. Such a letter has some- thin' warm an' personal about it that one can't put in a machine made letter, or on a high colored picture postal shovin' "one hour's catch at Silver Lake." I reckon ther hant over six or seven regular what I'd call warm ole time letters in a whole truck load o' 't' day's mail. "Have you heard from Ellie?" somebody'll ask somebody whose Ellie has been gone fer over four months. "Yes, we got a picture card from her yesterday mailed at Florida, but we expect her home this week mebbe." I thought th' war would revive letter writin' an' it did fer awhile, but it soon went th' way o' ever' thing else good that we hoped an' expected t' git out o' th' war. Ther's somethin' hard an' artificial an' forced about a typewritten letter, an, after one uses a typewriter awhile he gits so he can't sign his name so you kin read it. Typewritten letters seem so mechanical an' im- personal, an' I keep thinkin' it's an ad, or a touch, an' I'm almost afraid t' read 't' th' end. "Do you ever hear from Henry since he got married?" "Oh, yes indeed, we got a telegram only three months ago sayin' he wuz still married an' wuz jest about t' take his first airplane ride." O' course we read th' papers ever' day so we reckon he's all right. An' a letter never seems personal that's been dictated t' a frouzy stenographer an' bearin' an' endentifyin' cypher like we find on th' underside of a sweat band. Soldiers that were never known t' write a reglar letter in their lives contributed th' most interestin' literature o' th' world war, letters written in their own breezy careless fashion with no dictionary within 40,000 kilometers, an' free from flub dubs and flourish. It does take lots o' work an' trouble t' git squared away t' write a letter by hand, t' git ever' thing together, t' find a blotter an' thin th' ink up, but believe me a real self executed letter is th' most unique an' acceptable gift you kin send a friend.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

It is surprising to realize the intelligent people who devote hours of attention to their faces and forget all about their necks. How often have you seen an even little arc of powder stopping just at the chin and below the powder line, a darkly discolored neck and throat? Nothing detracts so much from the final ensemble of loveliness as a visible sign of neglect. A pretty face won't be even half pretty if an aging, sallow neck belies its beauty.

The neck requires less care than the face. The very fact that the neck betrays age when the face is still youthful is a permanent indictment against short-sighted beauty seekers. Almost every woman should begin at 25 to mildly bleach her neck. Necks do discolor rapidly, we all know that. Perhaps it is because of the furs and the coddling of harsh collars. Perhaps because necks are invariably neglected. Perhaps it is only because shape- liness and color is the only way for a neck to be beautiful.

We can rogue our cheeks, polish our nails and mascara our eyes, but what can we do for our necks? Whiten them! So by all means, remember a bleaching soap or a bleaching cream to be used regularly two or three times a week even if it is only a preventive measure. It is a little uncanny to witness the positive affinity our necks have for dust and grime.

In the winter time a neat little shadow. The dyes from coats and high necked gowns do just the same and the result is startling if you are not particularly vigilant.

In applying cleansing cream rub it way in down below the lips. A skin- clearing cream such as I have alluded to before is excellent for both back and front of the neck as it stimulates activity and bleaches very mildly. Never use a bleaching soap or lotion without following with a cream. They dry the skin.

Peroxide and water or lemon juice and water are good bleaches. Another radical treatment and remarkably quick and effective bleaching treatment is the application first of cleansing cream then a golden-hued bleaching stimulant which is a chemical circulation regulator and animator, followed by a bleaching cream which may also be used. This is an excellent neck treatment.

Another hint is for you to frame your neck. If it is soft and white, you may either wear the straight colored fabrics or a dainty white trilly collar—the very young always look charming with a soft collar. If the skin is noticeably discolored keep away from white, and select ecru, tan, unbleached linen, etc.

Distressingly plain necks are too severe for the average woman. Your neck is an important beauty feature. Don't neglect it!

Conversion Aably Discussed By Evangelist Walker

The interest in the evangelistic services that are being held every night at Central Christian church is unabated, as evidenced by the great crowd that attended the service last night, giving great heed to the message on the subject of "Conversion: Its Changes."

Besides the general song service it was made more interesting and impressive by two finely rendered solos by Frances Gibson and Mrs. Margaret Palmer Shuler.

Evangelist Walker, after relating some experiences of his younger days proceeded in the discussion of the sermon, showed how God was able to take the sinner in his vile state and change him into a saint. He said that the changes wrought in conversion were a change of heart, a change of conduct and a change of relationship. Speaking for a considerable length upon each of these, quoting frequently from the Scriptures, Mr. Walker drove home to the unsaved a very forcible message that gripped the heart, and 12 responded to the invitation.

The subject of the sermon tonight is "Warning Yourself by the Devil's Fire." The ordinance of baptism will be administered to many candidates at the beginning of the service on Sunday evening.

CORN BORER CLEAN-UP FOR MERCER COUNTY

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., March 10.—Orders were received from Washington today stating that Mercer county, along with Erie county, Crawford county and part of Warren county, is included in the territory quarantined for the year because of the corn borer. ## Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

The subject for today's lesson is soup. In spite of the efforts of the comic strip artists to belittle it, soup still remains as one of the stable parts of the diet of the American nation.

But as common as it is, it still is a hard thing to make, that is providing you care anything about the best. Anybody can throw a chunk of meat and some vegetables together and call it soup, but real soup, the kind that tickles all the way down is like painting a picture, you must be an artist in order to get the right effect.

Down in the Eighth Ward fire house on Sciota Street is one of the finest soup artists in the city. Captain Dick McIlwain, who guides the destinies of the department in that ward is one of those soup architects who knows just the right proportion of every- thing.

A little of this, a little of that, a dash of something else, and a sprinkle of some secret ingredient and Dick turns out a bowl of soup that has you clamoring for more. The boys had soup last night for supper, or dinner or whatever they call the evening meal. There was a big kettle of it when they started, but the kettle took a lot of punishment before they were through. I don't know how good Dick would be on making lemon pie or hausenpfeffer but on soup he ranks with the best.

Amusing things often get into newspapers with no thought of any humor in them. Bob Hamilton pointed out one of such instances last night. You may recall some weeks ago there was an article in the News concerning parking after one a.m. and what would happen to swains who left their cars out after that.

On the next page, directly in back of the article was an advertising cut showing a parlor worker and his girl in a clinch on a davenport. Very timely.

New Wilmington is the destination tonight for the Westminster Grove City basketball game. Westminster has had a lot of tough luck in the past few weeks and nobody can even guess what the outcome will be. But its going to be worth seeing.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Bills for raises in salary for the fire chief, city assessor, city poor director, health officer and city physician were introduced into council.

The question of a viaduct from Terrace avenue to Liberty street was warmly debated in council.

The idea of taking the high school band down to Pittsburgh for the basketball games seems to be one that the fans like. One dyed-in-the-wool fan took time out last night giving me seventeen reasons why the band should go down for the next game. And every reason was a good one. My own reason for wanting the band to go down is to show the Pittsburgh folks the best high school band in this part of the world. It pays to advertise and with a product like the Senior High School band, why keep it hidden?
